Consoderate Prisoners of War.-Twenty-two Confederate prisoners of war reached this city yesterday afternoon from Western Virginia, nearly all of whom had been wounded or sick. They were captured at the battles of Phillippa and Cheat Mountain, and several were without an arm, while others had lost a leg. One young man among them was on a visit to his brother at Phillippa, and while in the house his leg was taken off by a cannon ball. They are all young men and appear able to endure hardships, as their appearance indicates they have. They are nevertheless very cheerful. On their arrival in this city they were taken to the central police station, from whence they were convered to) the Custom-house building, but soon after allowed to proceed to the Gilmor House, where they were comfortably quartered for the night. They are on ; their parole and will be sent to Old l'oint this afternoon, when they will be discharged. Among them | are two amistant surgeous, a lieutenant and an adjutant. They were brought to this city under the charge of Federal Captain Way, of Ohio. The following are the names of the party:-Captain D. Curry, Lieutenant Henry L. Hoover, Surgeon Wil- Missouri 6's 42 do Cleveland & Tol.liam A. Carrington, Thomas A. Gilmer, J. S. Dorsett, James Hanger, William B. Moody, Andrew J. Maddoz, J. W. Beaseley, J. C. Sanford, G. W. Fire of them are from Georgia and the remainder are from Virginia. While at the Police Station they were surrounded by a crowd of persons who deeply day footed up only 375 head, and with a good desympathized with them, but by order of Federal mand for them prices show considerable improvel'olice Marshal Mel'hail, no one was allowed to ment over last week's rates. A Fearful Fall .- Yesterday evening, about seven o'clock, Julia, aged seven years, a daughter of Mr. 1 M. Schloss, residing at No. 61 Harrison street, met with a fearful fall, though possibly without injury. The house has the rear running back to Jones' Falls, and has balconies up to the third story. She was climbing on the third story balcony, when a piece of plank gave way, and she was precipitated to the water below, striking on some projecting wall as she fell. A servant girl heard the fall and rescued the child, or she would have been drowned. A physician was called, who found no bones broken. though the system was greatly shocked, and she ! may be injured internally. The escape from death WAS & DATTOW ORC.

By Whose Authority.—The fact has been already etated that the dwelling of Samuel K. George, Esq., was entered a few mornings since at the unseasonable hour of 2 o'clock, and thoroughly searched by a powe composed of Federal soldiers and police. What adds to the outrage is the fact that Mr. G. is | ran & Co absent from the city. By whose authority the outrage was committed, no one appears to know, as both General Dix and Marshal Dodge disclaim any knowledge of the transaction. The question now naturally arises who is responsible for the lives and property of our citizens—the heads of the Military and Police Departments, or their minions?

The Confederate Prisoners .- These gentlemen . have been waited on by large numbers of persons this morning, including many ladies. They have been the recipients of all kinds of presents, from full suits of clothes to the smallest articles of comfort. Several of the wounded were taken in private] carriages to view the city, and they will all no | doubt leave Baltimore deeply impressed with the hospitality of our citizens. The statement in . morning paper that any one of them expressed re- un gret at having taken up arms against the government, or complained that they had been deceived, is a gross misrepresentation. No such language was used by any of them.

Artillery Batteries for Washington. - A long train | terms, by of house cars reached here this morning by the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad filled with a very superior battery of artillery, consisting of twelve pieces, some of which are of heavy calibre and the most approved pattern, with caissons, forger and ammunition wagons complete. In addition, there was an immense number of gun carriages and other artillery appendages, including) many dray loads of balls and shot. The artillery battery was invoiced from the Watertown Arsenal. Mass. The whole occupied a long train, and was despatched for the Capital.

The Cutter Forward .-- The Cutter Forward, which for some time has been lying off Annapolis, came up as far as Fort Carroll, where she anchored on I tention. Tuesday atternoon. She is now ordered to New 1 York for repairs, and another cutter will be substituted in her place in the Chesapeake bay. On Tuce . day night her commander captured two fugitive as beressoure announced, for which a proportionable reduction slaves, who were making their way to the bay in a will be made. Patrons are earnestly requested to have the cancer, and sent them up to Fort McHenry to await the demand of their owners.

last night, a special train from l'hiladelphia arrived and EDWARD HYATT are alone authorised to use the name at the President Street Depot with the Twentythird Regiment of Pennsylvania volunteers, under the command of Col. Birney, numbering about five | hundred and fifty men, en route for Washington city. A large portion of the men were under Col. 1 Dare, in the same regiment, which had already) served three months under Gen. Patterson. They are all uniformed similar to regulars.

Not So .- Capt. Kirch, of the brig Frances Jane, at this port to-day from Porto Rico, emphatically contradicts the report that provisions were taken | demand. out of his ressel by a Confederate privateer on his | outward passage. No such proceedings took place. and he cannot imagine how the report originated. Caralry Horses for Washington, -At half-past o'clock this morning about 350 horses, designed for the Cavalty Regiment of Col. Mix, at Washington, arrived at the President street Depot in cars which were separately transported to the Camden Station, whence they will be convered to their destination. Arrival of Hoge. - The Patriot announces the arrival of a large number of Hogs by the Sorthern

Central Railroad, and says they were sent on to Washington, but fails to announce whether they were bipeds or quadrupeds. Pennsylvania Regiments. - About 800 men of Col. Chantry's and Williams's Pennsylvania regiments arrived at the President street Depot to-day about 12 o'clock from Philadelphia, and marched to Cam. A den Station en route for Washington. Runaway Stare. - David Johnson, negro, was last night arrested by officer Wamsley, charging J. W. Agler as being a runaway slave from Virginia. Justice Hiss committee him to jail for a further hearing.

A Further Hearing.-Mr. John Booley, whose arrest on a charge of treason in having been engaged in obstructing the passage of the Sixth Mas. sachusetts Regiment through Pratt street, on the a further examination before United States Commissioner Hann this morning. A number of witnesses were examined on the part of the Governa bailiff in the Criminal Court, returnable on Monday next. The case was then postponed until that time. John H. Ing, Esq., appeared as counsel for Appointment. - We learn that Dr. A. Whiteford. residing on Biddle street, has been appointed surgeon to the Seventy-ninth New York Regiment, (Highlanders,) Colonel Stevens, commanding.
