John Hodgson, the editor of the Jeffersonian, the sheet suppressed in West Coester a few days i ago, was arrested by the U.S. Marshal, and his i office taken possession of, but orders were sent for his release, on condition that he made no attempt to revive his treasonable publication.

From New York. The New York correspondent of the Philadel-

Even lif this were not so, however, the exposed coudi I tion of the Fort to attacks from the sea and assaults from the land, would impress the Government with the propriety of making no further additions to its inhabitants. Hence, Fort Schuy ler, situated at the entrance of East river, with the former, has been selected as the future receptacle of all persons suspect. The Fort is beautifully located, and perhaps one of its chief recommendations is its seclusion, and lack of means of communication with the city. At Fort Lafayette, notwithstanding the rigid I rules that have been established respecting the prisoners there, there has been, until within the day or two past, pretty free communication between some of the prisoners and their friends in the city, in the presence of the officers of the guard it is true, but this thing is come to be an annovance, which will scarcely be of so frequent recur-

All the large craft, schooners and sloops, small row boats and skiffs on the Potomac river, have been taken possession of by Government authority. This may be a matter of precaution between the Maryland and Virginia shores.
