LATER FROM HAVANA.

New York, Nov. 18.—The steamer Cosmopolitan, from Havana on the 12th inst., has arrived. The Spanish fleet for Mexico was only awaiting the arrival of the vessel over due from Spain before sailing for the Gulf.

The Mexican news is not favorable to the Juarez Government. The disaffection of Gen. Ortega, who had retired to his own State—Zacatecas—tells against the Government. Gen. Marquez with 4,000 troops, though once defeated, was approaching the Valley of Mexico. It was supposed, however, that he would be again beaten. The constitutional guarantee suspended by Congress has been restored by the edicts of Juarez.

A report that Mexico has acceded to the demands of England and France was not believed at the Capital, was in the hands of the Confederates.

Eight hundred filibusters had passed the river Bravo and were marching on Durango. Max Maretzek's troupe had been roughly handled on their way to Vera Cruz by the Reactionists, and had met with considerable loss. Part of the troupe, including the Misses Heron, of Philadelphia, had been taken to strongholds in the mountains for ransom.

FROM WESTERN VIRGINIA.

Point Pleasant, Va., Nov. 16.—An accident occurred at Camp Pickett, twelve miles above Charleston this morning. Captain Bell, of Company K, Forty-fourth Ohio Regiment, and eleven of his men, while crossing the Kanawha in a skiff, ran under the steamer Commodore Perry. The Captain and seven of his men were drowned, and the remainder saved.

FROM FORT PICKENS.

New York, November 18.—Mr. Savage, United States Vice Consul at Havana, who returned from Key West on the 10th, reports that a body of 1,500 Confederates having been discovered by the Union patrol some twenty miles from Fort Pickens on Santa Rosa Island, the Commander of the Federal fleet sent a force who shell the Confederates off the Island. It was supposed that the object was to get together a body of some 5,000 men for another night attack.

From the Lower Potomac.

Washington, Nov. 18.—The steamer E. B. Hale arrived at the Navy Yard on Saturday night. For a week or two past she had been stationed at Stump Neck, to watch the steamer Page, but the opening of the new Confederate battery at Cockpit Point, forced her to move from that exposed position, and she now lies at Deep Point when on the lookout.

The steamer Dawn ran the blockade on Thursday night, and six schooners on Thursday night last, all bound down. Since then but small vessels have passed either way.

The Confederates are busy at First Point, and it is supposed are building a strong work for a battery there.

CITY ITEMS

Extensive Arrival of Military.

Yesterday was a remarkable lively day, the streets in every direction of the city being more or less crowded, to witness the movement of the various bodies of military in transit for Washington and Annapolis. At an early hour the 9th Pennsylvania Regiment, numbering 350 men, arrived by the Northern Central Railroad, and was forwarded to Annapolis in a special train. Shortly afterwards a body of Regulars, numbering 488 men, arrived at the Philadelphia and Wilmington depot; they consisted of Artillery and infantry, and had but recently arrived in New York from the Pacific coast, and were destined for Washington. Next came the 66th New York Regiment by the same route, numbering 324 musketeers, and were immediately marched to the Camden Station. Then followed the 51st Pennsylvania Regiment, who came by the Northern Central Railroad; they consisted of 649 men; they were conveyed in a special train last night for Annapolis. We noticed a large number of intoxicated soldiers among this regiment. Last, but not least, a train arrived at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, from Washington, having on board 300 sailors belonging to the Glasgow and St. Helena Batteries, who were to leave last night for Cairo, Ill., via the Northern Central Railroad, intended to man the gunboats on the Mississippi River.

Change in the Mail Arrangements.

An important change in the arrival and departure of the mails takes place to-day between Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York. The Philadelphia cars will leave Baltimore at 8:30 A. M., 1:05 P. M., 5:20 P. M. and 7 P. M., on every day except Sunday, when they will leave at 7 P. M. For Washington the trains will depart as follows: 4:20 A. M., 7:35 A. M., 9 A. M., 3:50 P. M. and 5 P. M. They will leave Washington at 6:10 A. M., 7:40 A. M., 11 A. M., 3:05 P. M. and 5 P. M.

Passenger Trains Between Baltimore and Washington.

On and after to-day, the passenger trains will be run daily between Baltimore and Washington. These from Baltimore will leave as follows: 4:20, 7:35 and 9 A. M., and 3:50 and 5 P. M. Those from Washington will start at 6:10, 7:40 and 11 A. M., and 3:05 and 5 P. M. This arrangement will admit of three trains per day between New York and Washington. The travel at the Washington branch at the present time is very heavy.

Thrown from a Horse.

Yesterday morning a man named George Britzel was thrown from a horse on Gilmore street, near Townsend, by which his left arm was broken above the elbow. He was riding at a good rate of speed, and the horse fell and Mr. Britzel was thrown some six or eight feet over his head. He was taken to a house near by, when a physician was called to attend to the injury, after which he was removed to his home on Republic street.

More Political Arrests.

Mr. Charles R. Coleman, was arrested on Saturday last by orders from the Federal authorities and sent to Fort Mifflin, on a charge of treason.

James Senley, was arrested yesterday charged with drinking the health of Jeff. Davis, and for refusing to take the oath of allegiance, he was conveyed to the Eastern Police Station, where Justice Griffin, fined him one dollar and costs, and held him to bail to keep the peace on Saturday morning. An attempt was made to force an entrance into the Merchant Tailoring store of Mr. Joseph Hopkins, corner of Baltimore and Charles streets, but owing to the timely arrival of Sergeant John H. Peters of the middle district, the burglars were compelled to retreat, by jumping into a carriage on the corner and by rapid driving, succeeded in making their escape.

Captain's Escape.

On Saturday two men, named Snyder and Mitchell, while coming up to the city in a launch, were carried by a heavy flow of water, which off Locust Point. Several persons from the shore obtained a boat and rescued them. They both held on to their captives until afloat had reached them.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Canal.

It is learned that the work of repairing the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal has advanced to such an extent that it will be in navigable order between Cumberland and Harper's Ferry before the close of the week, and the entire work will be placed in good shape in four or five days. Mr. John E. Owens, the great Comedian, supported by Miss Susan Denin, Miss Annie Graham, Mr. Charles Bass and others, favorably known to the public. Mr. Owens has selected for the occasion the ever-popular comedy of "The Troddles," in which he sustains the character of Timothy Troddles, one in which the late William E. Burton gained so much popularity, and in which Mr. Owens now has no rival. He will also appear as Cousin Joe, in the farce of "The Rough Diamond." Miss Susan Denin will appear as Horatio Spraggs. This is an immense bill, and cannot fail to draw an overflowed audience.

Horatio Spraggs' Tragedy.

The public will be doubly gratified to learn that Miss Lucille Western, having recovered from her late painful accident, will resume her engagement at the above Theatre this evening. She will repeat, for the last time this season, her great performance of Camille, in the popular drama of that name.

Maryland Institute Hall.—It must not be forgotten that a concert will be given at the above Hall tonight by the House of Refuge Band; the proceeds of which will be devoted to the purchase of new instruments and uniforms for the members; and as they have no other resources, it is to be hoped the public will liberally patronize them.

following, however, reached the morning papers last night.

THE ARRIVAL AT PLETON, KY.

MATVILLLE, Ky., Friday, Nov. 15.—Reports from headquarters, dated the 13th inst., were received this evening through trustworthy gentlemen who were at Pikeburg. They say that our forces attacked the Confederates who were 1,000 strong and posted on a hill, killing from 80 to 90, and taking 50 prisoners. The rest scattered. Col. Williams was the first man to run.

Six of Col. Marshall's men were killed, and fifteen wounded. His horse was shot under him.

Fifteen of Col. Fife's men were wounded and nine killed.

The morning editors were struck dumb by this falling-of-the-pen and had not a word to say over it. The additions they made, though accurate, or rather the alterations they made of the original telegram:

From the Tribune report.
"The above is trustworthy."
From the Journal of Commerce report.
"The above is reliable."
From the Times.

Now, such reflections as these, are what logicians call the reductio ad absurdum? Or, as the novelists say, "Nobody will believe nothing." Not only is the newspaper trade thus demoralized, but the cause, the country, too!

The true, the real, the fire soldier never awakes. He falls short, never stretches over of the Truth. When we have Bulletins, or Reports from him, Facts go far beyond his simple narration. Three awards were sought for Cause to tell a victory. The modest report of Commodore Dupont, and the disclaimer by Gen. Sherman of having any hand in what was done at Fort Royal, were saddest reports of a very brilliant affair.

By "New York" report of Gen. Sherman, according to the Charleston and Savannah Railroad, and as being on the way to Charleston. &c. "Saunders," therefore, is over an enemy of his country, because he is over extending expectations, which Truth shames, and thus he is a traitor. "Down with Saugers!" Up with Truth, even if it kills!—N. Y. Express.

THE UNHAPPY CONDITION OF MARYLAND.

A travelling Yankee correspondent who accompanies Sickles' Brigade in Lower Maryland, and was probably raised upon odd-fish and potatoes, is doubtless shocked at the lamentable poor condition of the people in Charles and St. Mary's counties. If they are so wretchedly off why trouble the poor devil? He says:

"As you advance into Maryland, and become more acquainted with the country and people, the more you become satisfied of the wretchedness of their condition. The people of the whole country seem to be destitute of all those qualities which the North are common to all. The country ever starves in New York or Boston. The 'opulence' common to all 'parts of a course, enjoyed by the sewing women etc.' 'There are no potatoes, very few eggs, and no utter 'Wood bread, or flour, poultry and cattle are seldom seen, and fresh beef, even in towns, is a great rarity.' How strange with the truth and spirit so noticeable in every where in Maryland, can lead the life they do, is a wonder to all our troops. The negroes are poorly clothed and fed, still they present a very healthy appearance, and are always willing to give in confidence any information our troops may be in need of concerning the whereabouts of forage, which the farmers are very reluctant to dispose of at Government prices."

THE FELIX MURPHY CASE.

The reports which have been published in some of the daily newspapers relative to the arrest of Bulettski, have no foundation whatever. The principal object of the reports is to excite in the public mind, and what is more, to give in confidence any information our troops may be in need of concerning the whereabouts of forage, which the farmers are very reluctant to dispose of at Government prices."

The Boston Daily Advertiser, in referring to the proposed visit of Messrs. Mellaine, Bancroft and Everett to Europe, says: "With respect to Mr. Everett, we were surprised to learn that he is, in consequence of the state of his family, it will be in his power to leave home at present."

The Governor of Illinois has issued a proclamation for an election to fill the Congressional vacancies in the 6th (St. Clair) district, occasioned by the acceptance of Gen. McLean of a third-term Senatorial commission. The election will take place December 31.

The Honolulu Commercial Advertiser states that experiments at rice raising in the islands have proved highly satisfactory, and that arrangements have been made for going into the business extensively.
