MARYLAND LEGISLATURE.

ANNAPOLIS, January 15, 1862.

SENATE.

Mr Denison obtained leave for the committee on corporations to report a bill repealing the charter and to wind up the affairs of the Baltimore Corn and Flour Exchange.

Mr. Fiery obtained leave to withdraw his resolutions in relation to a truce.

Mr. Eichelberger, from the committee on corporations, reported the Baltimore police bill, with amendments, and it was made the special order for Friday next.

Mr. Fiery submitted a preamble, similar to the one offered to his resolution of Monday, and the following resolutions:

Resolved by Senate and House of Delegates of Maryland, That we earnestly and seriously recommend to the Congress of the United States the adoption of the Crittenden compromise as it stood prior to its amendment.

Resolved, That on and after the adoption by Congress of the aforesaid compromise, the President of the United States be and he is hereby requested to await a response from the Confederate Congress; and if that response be favorable to the aforesaid proposition, he shall propose an armistice for —— days, for the purpose of effecting an amicable adjustment of our national difficulties upon the basis of an entire restoration of the Union in all its original integrity.

At this time Messrs. Johnson and Dent, of the House of Delegates, entered the Senate, bearing the ballot-box with the votes of the House of Delegates for State Treasurer, which was laid on the President's desk.

The President then broke the seal, and the box was handed to the members, who each cast their ballot. The roll was then called in order that any one who had not voted might have the opportunity of doing so.

Messrs. Goldsborough and Jenkins were appointed by the President, and, in conjunction with Messrs. Johnson and Dent, of the House, retired to the ante-chamber with the ballot-box containing the votes, which they counted.

In a few moments the tellers on the part of the Senate returned and announced that seventy-nine votes had been cast, of which Mr. R. Fowler received sixty-nine, and Mr. S. Harwood received ten.

The President thereupon declared Mr. Fowler duly elected. Adjourned.

HOUSE OF DELEGATES.

Mr. Findlay, from the committee on militia, remarked that up to this time the committee had not been able to report a bill for the relief of the volunteers. He proceeded at length to state the difficulties in the way, and stated the various plans which had been proposed for the disbursement of the moneys.

Mr. Price, from the judiciary committee, reported a bill defining treason and providing for its punishment; which was ordered to be printed.

Mr. Ensor obtained leave for the committee on corporations to report a bill incorporating the North Branch Railroad Company.

Mr. Ensor also obtained leave for the same committee to report a bill incorporating the Union Gas Light Company of Baltimore.

The hour of twelve having arrived, the order of the day, the bill relating to Druid Hill Park, was taken up and discussed, and amended by Messrs. Ensor, Alexander, Price and White.

Pending the consideration of this bill the hour of half-past one arrived, when the House went into an election for State Treasurer. [illegible] Harwood, of Anne Arundel county.

[The result will be seen in the Senate proceedings.]

The House then resumed the consideration of the Druid Hill Park bill, which was read and passed.

Mr. Coale said he was opposed to the useless expenditures of the public money in printing reports by the thousand now, when formerly a few hundred were deemed amply sufficient to satisfy the demand.

In the report of Monday's proceedings Mr. Purnell's name was accidentally put in the place of that of Mr. Pearce, who obtained leave for the committee on claims to report a bill withholding all appropriations from colleges, academies, &c., excepting where a special contract has been made.

SCENE IN A SANCTUM.—[Enters a large strong man, with a cow-hide in his hand.]

"Is the editor in?"

"He is."

"You?"

"Yes."

"I have come to settle with you."

"Well, (editor draws a revolver,) go ahead."

"I have taken your paper now about a year."

"Well," (capping his pistol.)

"An article in your last issue (editor cocks his pistol) has convinced me, sir, that—you—need—"

"I deny your right to give it; be cautious, sir."

"Give you what?"

"A thrashing."

"Why, no, my dear sir, I came to pay in advance for another year."

The editor wilted.

SUICIDE.—D. Lacroix, a Professor of French and other European languages, committed suicide on Tuesday afternoon, in New York, by shooting himself through the head with a pistol. The coroner's inquest elicited the fact that he was suffering from embarrassed circumstances, which was the supposed cause of the act.

LETTER FROM CHARLESTON.—A letter has been received in New York, from Charleston, South Carolina, dated December 15th. The writer—a lady—seems cheerful, but gives no news of public interest, except the remark that "many of our friends get letters from the North," by way of Havana, most likely.
