

The South.

From the New York Journal of Commerce. SICK OF THE NEGRO. Some of the North-western States are "making up faces" because a considerable number of miserable negroes have taken up their abode in that part of the country.

To the General Assembly of the State of Ohio: We, the undersigned voters of Franklin county, Ohio, in view of the information made by the President of the United States, in his message, that by an act of Congress, and by laws of some of the States to be hereafter enacted, many of the negroes, held as slaves, may be set at liberty, and that they may wander into Ohio, to the great damage of the white inhabitants of our State, and especially to those who have to depend upon their labor to support themselves and families.

Coming from Ohio, this movement is very ungracious, for, excepting Massachusetts, that State has manifested more solicitude for the negro than any other, and should at least take her full share of all the negroes that may be emancipated. Illinois, too, is manifesting a dislike of the black element entering so largely into her population. In the Constitutional Convention of the State, now in session, a proposition was introduced to the body, explicitly denouncing the abolitionists, and placing them in the same category with secessionists, as follows:—

Resolved, That the Committee on Federal Relations be instructed to inquire and report who, what class, faction or party is responsible for the present agitation against the Federal Government, and whether the odious and treasonable doctrine of secession has not received its vitality and nourishment from the Abolition leaders of the North; and whether, in short, the Abolitionists of the North and the rebels of the South are not equally and alike traitors.

This was laid on the table by a comparatively small majority, the vote on the question standing 29 to 20. Then comes Iowa in the list of disaffected States. Early in the session of the present Legislature, a resolution was offered that at least one-half of the time be given to legislating for white men, and it was probably in pursuance of this idea that a bill was introduced a few days ago, of which the following is an abstract.

That no negro or mulatto shall be allowed to settle in this State without bringing a satisfactory certificate of his freedom, and filing with the Board of Supervisors a bond of $500 for his behavior; and that any negro or mulatto failing to comply with such regulation shall be hired out to the highest bidder for the benefit of the county; that any citizen harboring such persons shall be liable to a heavy fine; and that slaveholders shall have the right of transit across the State for their slaves. Quite a sharp debate sprang up, lasting throughout the day, but action on the bill was indefinitely postponed, by 74 to 45.

It may be premature at the present time to discuss the subject of providing homes for negroes; but should the war degenerate into an abolition crusade, and anything be left to legislate upon, to do something in regard to this matter will become imperative.

COFFEE CULTURE. Some of the Western cultivators from recent experience are encouraged to believe that coffee can be grown successfully in the United States. A letter from Effingham, Illinois, to Hon. Sidney House, speaks of what has been accomplished in the attempt to acclimate seed received about three years ago from Australia, known there as East India coffee, and where it was fast superseding all other coffee.

On the 10th of May, A. D. 1859, Mr. Hoffman, of Effingham county, planted these seeds in ordinary soil, without manure, planting one same depth as corn, in hills, three feet apart, each way, one seed in a hill, and tilled it with a hoe, keeping the ground loose about the plants and clear of weeds. This crop ripened in August when he gathered over six thousand pounds of coffee, more than ten hundred to one. Of this product, he used one-third for the purpose of testing its usefulness and value, and becoming fully satisfied that it was equal, if not superior, to the ordinary Java coffee, planted the remaining seed the next season, on the 15th day of June, 12 inches apart, in drills three feet apart, and tilled it the same as corn, plowing at three times, using a common double shovelled plow, and roused, as his second year's crop, four bushels, the seed ripening in September. He used one-half of the seed for seed, the other half for coffee. He says that the coffee is of a fine quality, and that it is not inferior to any other coffee he has ever used. He says that the coffee is of a fine quality, and that it is not inferior to any other coffee he has ever used.
