

IMPORTANT FROM MEXICO.

From the New York Evening Express. Via Havana, we have dates from the city of Mexico to the 28th of January, and from Vera Cruz to February 1st. The news is highly important and interesting.

The Commissioners sent by the allied plenipotentiaries to Mexico with an ultimatum, returned to Vera Cruz on the evening of the 28th ultimo. They reported that throughout the entire journey, both going and returning, they were received with the greatest courtesy and kindness.

The ultimatum was not accepted. The allied plenipotentiaries were treated like princes, and the distinguished consideration shown to them was at once interpreted in Mexico as an indication that there would be no war.

After due consideration of the ultimatum, President Juarez delivered his reply, and despatched with the Commissioners Sr. Zamacois, Sr-Minister for Foreign Relations, clothed with full powers to treat with the allies as regarded preliminaries.

The reply of Juarez expressed a desire to avoid hostilities. He acknowledged the breach of the treaties, and offered the most satisfactory security for the future. He proposed that the Allied Ministers should come to Orizaba and treat there in detail with Mexican Commissioners; but he exacted as a preliminary condition that the whole expeditionary force should be re-embarked.

OFFICIAL DESPATCHES FROM FLAG-OFFICER GOLDBOROUGH RELATIVE TO THE CAPTURE OF ROSAÑOKE ISLAND.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—A special messenger arrived here this morning, bringing the following despatches relative to the engagement at Rosañoke Island:

U. S. FLAG-SHIP PHILADELPHIA, OFF ROSAÑOKE ISLAND, Feb. 7, 1862. Rosañoke Island is ours? Its military authorities stuck to us yesterday. Their means of defence were truly formidable, and they were used with a determination worthy of a better cause.

The fighting commenced on the morning of the 7th inst. at about 11 o'clock, and was continued until dark. The following morning it was resumed at an early hour, and it lasted until well in the afternoon, when by a bold charge of our army the rebel flag was made to succumb, and our own was hoisted everywhere on the island in its place.

mor, which received a round shot through her bows; another boat was much injured in the rigging, and the Helzer had six men killed and three wounded by the explosion of a rifed cannon.

Commodore Lynch escaped by jumping overboard and swimming ashore, as did most of his officers. Two of the Confederate gun-boats are thought to have escaped by the canal. Commodore Goldsborough had destroyed the gate of the canal, thinking by that means to prevent the Confederate boats from getting very far away.

The flag of truce yesterday took up some 40 cases of detailing marked for the Federal prisoners at Richmond. Col. Lee of Massachusetts and other hostages for privateers have been transferred from the jail to the Confederate prison.

The rebel fleet was attacked and dispersed in a half an hour by a portion of the navy, which remained on the island until the 10th inst. The rebel fleet was attacked and dispersed in a half an hour by a portion of the navy, which remained on the island until the 10th inst.

FROM MISSOURI. ROLLA, Feb. 12.—[Special to the Missouri Republican.] A messenger from Lebanon has just arrived. He left Marshallfield, four miles from Springfield, on Tuesday, at noon, when it was reported that Gen. Price had left Springfield, and was encamped near the battle-ground of Wilson's creek.

General Sigel is, no doubt, by this time occupying Springfield. A large amount of stores and equipment were captured by Gen. Curtis.

Operations of the Fleet in the Gulf. WASHINGTON, February 14.—From special despatches to the Navy Department it is ascertained that on the evening of the 19th January the U. S. steam gunboat Isaac Roberts captured the schooner Light of Annapolis, loaded with 283 bales of cotton, (152,500 pounds,) bound for Jamaica or a market. She was sent in charge of a prize crew to Philadelphia.

A dispatch from Ship Island, dated January 16th, says that on the 28th December the United States steamer New London captured the schooner Gympse. She was discovered inside of Horn Island Pass, was chased and overtaken near Pascagoula, when the crew deserted and set fire to her.

The ship, however, was extinguished before she had sustained much injury. She is of about 30 tons burthen, her cargo of cotton of the superior quality, which was shipped on board the schooner by Mr. of Fernandina, laden with salt.

FROM WASHINGTON. WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Despatches from Fort Royal, dated Feb. 9th, says that on the 5th inst., the steamer Keystone captured the British schooner Mar of Fernandina, laden with salt.

Official importance, but its action in this instance is significant. The cropping out of a powerful opposition to Senator Harris and his friends, which has been for some time past fermenting in secret, up at Albany, the purpose of which, it is understood, is to badger the Senator into resigning his place.

The letter carriers have had a busy time to-day, delivering despatches from Saint Valentine. The extra force of fifteen men employed by the Postmaster have been found none too many. Ten thousand were delivered before eleven o'clock A. M., and up to the hour of closing, the delivery, it is estimated, could not fall short of 40,000.

The lawyer's office in Leonard street, where the petition to the Legislature to modify the divorce laws of this State is awaiting signatures, is daily thronged by all sorts of people, rich and poor, high and low, and the paper has already received a goodly number of names. More than a third of the visitors, however, are willing to affix their signatures, but all are desirous of having the bill passed, and many contribute largely for that purpose.

CITY ITEMS. Official Visit to the House of Refuge.—Yesterday morning the members of the City Council, at the invitation of the Board of Managers, visited the House of Refuge. They left the City Hall about ten o'clock, in three cars, each drawn by four horses, which were specially provided by the City Passenger Railway Company.

The Baltimore College of Dental Surgery.—The large and splendid hall of the New Assembly Rooms was completely filled last evening with a very select audience—the occasion being the Twenty-Second Annual Commencement of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. We have not space enough to give the proceedings but a very brief notice.
