oThe Rev. I. Covert's Mixture, also now used so extensively for this affection by efergymen, belongs to the same class of stimulating expectorants, being one of those lucky combinations of medical agents which. while it premotes expectoration, does not hands the tone of the stomach. Of this medicine, we feel at liberty to speak, since its composition is not held from the Profession, and we hope the proprietors will soon see fit to give it to the public. We venture to recommend it therefore, having employed it in our own case, and in the cases of many others whit decided benefit. From the "Subura Conference and Family Recorder"

of September 4, 1430. "Covert's Balm bids fair to rank among the first of specifics for most cases of Pulmounry Disease. Prom having tested its salutary tendency, and more especially from the knowledge that it has won the confidence and received the commendations of many highly respectable medical gentleman, some of whom are well known as the organizate of their profession, we have no healtation in speaking well of it. We have reason to believe that it is employed in the practice of some of the most scientific and judicious of the physicians of this place. The Rev. Mr. Covert, the inventor and proprietor of this vajuable Medicine, is a respectable local minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church in this place." For sale in Baltimore by ROBERTS & ATKINSON.
