COMMENT. If we examine the nature of the above diseases, and thesituation of the parts affected, we must consider it a very important object to be able to obtain a remedy at once certain in its action, and at the same time composed of such ingradients as will prevent the possibility of discovery while using it. It is a fact well known to many, that most of the remedies off-red for these diseases are composed of such nancemisdings, as to render it almost impossible to continue their we without creating a cickness at the stemach or other unpleasant consequences. Such being the case there can be no duoit but such a semedy as Faller's Blench Philip will meet the priversal approduction, being the singly a compliment objections; pleasant in their opcontinue, and prompt by removing the distance. The proposetor would here remark, that the control of thesa light in the disciders alluded to, are not known upon reppesition; on the contrary, it is founded upon the tional experience, having medicions in a his remail. processor for unwaids of two years, he feels enotified to their enteritarity over the remedier hitherto employed f Wy-Price one dellar per box.
