COMMENT. If we examine the nature of the above diseases, and the situation of the parts affected, we must consider it a very important object to be able to obtain | WEUDSUN'S PAPERSa remedy at once certain in its action, and at the same time composed of such ingredients as will prevent the possibility of discovery while using it. It is a fact well known to many, that most of the remedies offered for these diseases are composed of such nausconsdrugs, as without creating a sickness at the stomach or other thpleasaut consequences. Such being the case there can be no duobt but such a remedy as Valier's French Mr. De Loughrey presented the report of the Pills; will meet the universal approbation, being entirely free from those objections; pleasant in their operation, and prompt in removing the disease. The Pills in the disorders alladed to, are not based upon supposition; on the contrary, it is founded upon rapractice for upwaids of two years, he feels confident of their superiority over the remedies hitherto employed.
