> For the Baltimere Clipper. THE OPAL RING. The Opal Ring you gave to me, It gloums upon my flager now, And as its rays flash brilliantly, I think of thy forgotton vow.

Of thee se changing as the hace That Git across this speckling gem, Thy love, thy vows, thy faith and treth, Are fairly mirrored forth by them.

Ah! I remember well the bower, Where I received this ring from thee, The moon's soft light illumed the hour, And heard thee swear to love but me.

Thou best no hold new on my beart, I could not leve one false as thee, Yet from thy gift I will not part, It minds me of man's Constancy. Baltimore, Feb. 2, 1841.
