The powerful party here, which has been specu-Lating for a rise in consols during the last two months, coming forward after each depression to buy up the loose Stocks, are becoming alarmed, as they have not ventured to renew their operations since the receipt of the unfavorable intelligence yesterday; from which it is naturally inferred that they are disposed to abandon it as a hopeless speculation. Foreign Securities have followed the stream in a greater or less degree, but as they have been little dealt in of late, the effect upon them is not so strong as it is upon our own stock. Railway Shares are also flat, and people hesitate about making new investments until they see what course events will take.
