LINES BY J. NS.

There is in death's mysterious sleep,
A lesson that may profit all;
And while we sad'ning vigil keep,
There is a voice that seems to call.

In accents low, yet full of meaning,
It tells us of our frail abode;
That while we boast, on strength we're leaning
That strength will rapidly corrode.

How few who heard the kindly warning,
Though they know life's but a span;
And fleeter than the rays of morning,
Is the race allowed to man.

GEN. HARRISON'S LAST LETTER. The letter which will be found below, introduced by the New York Commercial, is in all probability the last letter written by Gen. Harrison:

On Saturday, a hardy, weather-beaten, but very respectable looking seaman presented himself to the Collector, at the Custom House, and inquiring for Mr. Curtis, said, "Gen. Harrison told me to give this letter into your own hand. He told me to give his kind respects to Mr. Curtis, and said, Mr. Curtis was his friend, and would be my friend." Mr. Curtis opened the letter, and found it to be, from its date, one of the last, if not the very last letter, written by Gen. Harrison. It bears date of the day when his illness commenced. The reader will see, from a perusal of it, that amidst all the cares and troubles of his high position, he was true to the humblest of his old friends. Tucker says, the General made him come to the dinner table with the great folks, and when he hesitated and intimated that he had better go below for his dinner, the General said, "Tucker, you and I have been shipmates, and a long time together. You are an honest man; come and eat your dinner with me, and come here again to-morrow morning and get your breakfast with me."

Tucker says the General invited him to stay in Washington, and told him he would take care of him, but his wife and children being in New York, Tucker preferred to return. He says Gen. H. followed him into the grounds on the East side of the White House, and then walked with him arm-in-arm—that the General had no hat on, and when Tucker adverted to his liability to take cold, he waived the remark by saying he was already unwell. Having received the letter from the General, Tucker says he followed him to the door and shook him by the hand, saying "go to my friend Mr. Curtis, and after you have been to him don't forget to write to me that you and your wife and children are happy again."

Tucker says he had no money to come home by land, but he did not let the General know that, for he knew he would give it to him in a minute, and he did not wish to take money from the good old man who had been so kind to him. And so Tucker went on board the schooner L. L. Sturges, at Alexandria, and worked his passage home to New York. When he came to the custom house he had not been ashore thirty minutes, and having first heard the sad news of the death of his kind benefactor as he passed up the Old Slip dock, the abundant tears that fell down his hardy cheek testified that his is no ungrateful heart.

We are glad to hear that Mr. Curtis immediately appointed Mr. Tucker an inspector of the customs.

"WASHINGTON, 20th March, 1841.

"DEAR SIR—The bearer hereof, Mr. Thomas Tucker, a veteran seaman, came with me from Carthagena, as the mate of the brig Montidia, in the year 1829. In an association of several weeks I imbibed a high opinion of his character—so much so that (expressing a desire to leave the sea) I invited him to come to North Bend and spend the remainder of his days with me.—Subsequent misfortunes prevented his doing so, as he was desirous to bring some money with him to commence farming operations. His bad fortune still continues, having been several times shipwrecked within a few years. He says that himself and family are now in such a situation that the humblest employment would be acceptable to him, and I write this to recommend him to your favorable notice. I am persuaded that no one possesses, in a higher degree, the virtues of fidelity, honesty and indefatigable industry; and, I might add, of indomitable bravery, if that was a quality necessary for the kind of employment he seeks.

"Yours very truly,
"W. H. HARRISON.

"EDWARD CURTIS, Esq.
"Collector, &c., New York."

The Revue de l'Ouest mentions a most extraordinary instance of ignorance and prejudice which occurred at Champdeniers near Nantes, a few days since. An elderly man went out in the evening from home with a rope in his hand, and shortly after was found with the rope swung over a wall, having a heavy stone tied to it at one end, and himself hung by the neck with it at the other. The person who found him went and fetched the man's son, between whom and his father a bad understanding had long subsisted, and they both saw the unfortunate man moving his legs and arms. On the man's proposing to cut his father down, the son said that they had better not do this, but go and apprise the mayor, otherwise it might be thought that they had murdered him. They went to the mayor's house, which was some distance off, and returned with that functionary in half an hour's time. The body was perfectly motionless, but the village Solon decided that he had no right to cut it down, and that the juge de paix must be sent for. Four men were, therefore, left to watch the body, and messengers were sent to the juge de paix. The latter did not arrive till next evening, and the body of the unfortunate man was thus left hanging on the wall for twenty-four hours—this, too, in France, and in the nineteenth century!

SALE OF VALUABLE PROPERTY.

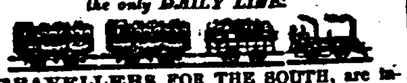
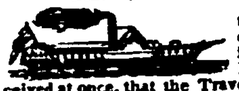
WINTER ARRANGEMENT.

GREAT SOUTHERN
UNITED STATES' MAIL LINE,
DAILY TO THE SOUTH.
The ONLY LINE carrying the GREAT MAIL, and the only DAILY LINE



TRAVELLERS FOR THE SOUTH, are informed that, by taking the Cars at Baltimore for Washington at 4 P. M., they proceed, via Washington, Fredericksburg, Richmond, Petersburg, Weldon, and Wilmington, N. C. to CHARLESTON, S. C., reaching Charleston the second morning after leaving Baltimore, and one day in advance of the Bay Line—the Companies on the route being bound by the Postmaster General to make the following quick Schedule:

Leave	Philadelphia	8 A.M.	reach	Baltimore	2 P.M.
"	Baltimore	4 P.M.	"	Washington	6 P.M.
"	Washington	5 A.M.	"	Fredk'sburg	12 M.
"	Fred'ksburg	12 M.	"	Richmond	5 P.M.
"	Richmond	5 P.M.	"	Petersburg	7 P.M.
"	Petersburg	7 P.M.	"	Weldon	1 A.M.
"	Weldon	1 A.M.	"	Wilmington	1 P.M.
"	Wilmington	1 P.M.	"	Charleston	at 5 the next day.



As this Line carries the Great Mail, (which cannot be delayed,) and is almost entirely a Rail-Road Line, it will be perceived at once, that the Traveller, unless in some extraordinary contingency, is sure of a connection throughout, whilst it is evident that Foul Rough Weather!! and Storms!!! must often occasion delay in a Route, more than two-thirds of which is by the Bay—the traveller being also subjected to Sea-sickness, and incurring unnecessary risk, from Boats being urged to the top of their speed, to compete with the more DIRECT ISLAND ROUTE.

☞ The above line will be found not only the most certain and expeditious, but the most attractive, as it passes through the Seat of Government, and in sight of Mount Vernon by daylight, and through Fredericksburg, Richmond, and Petersburg, the largest and most flourishing towns in Virginia. It is also cheaper to Richmond, and as cheap as the Bay route to Weldon: and travellers have no expense or trouble with their Baggage.

☞ This is much the nearest, quickest, and cheapest route to the interior of Virginia, North and South Carolina—at Petersburg, Va. commences the route by way of Raleigh, N. C.—145 miles of Rail Road from Petersburg to that city. Stage Lines branch off from Raleigh Rail Road to the old Piedmont Line, to Milton, Danville, &c., and to Knoxville, (Tenn.)

☞ Passengers for the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road pay through to Petersburg, Va. For further information and Through Tickets, apply at the office of

MORE PROOFS of the efficacy of Doctor SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY.

To Dr. SWAYNE.

Dear Sir—The time has been, when I would not recommend a medicine advertised in the public prints over my own signature; I now feel different—I feel it my duty to inform the afflicted where they may find relief. I was reduced, by a protracted COUGH for six months, to a mere skeleton; no rest at night; soreness and pain in my breast, side, &c. Suffice it to say, I used your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, which in a few weeks relieved me effectually. I am certain that, had it not been for your medicine, I should now be in the silent grave. Let no person delay, but procure your Syrup and be relieved of their COUGHS and COLDS, as they are dangerous companions, and often lead to dangerous consequences
