

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

TUESDAY MORNING, MAY 18, 1841.

THE ELECTION. If politicians did not throw dust in the eyes of the people yesterday, the wind did. During the greater part of the day the wind was high, and the atmosphere so loaded with dust and sand, as to make it painful to be in the streets; but the voters braved all obstacles to deposit their ballots. The election was conducted with uncommon moderation. There was nothing of that bustle and strife which we have sometimes witnessed—on the contrary the most perfect quiet and good order prevailed throughout the day, as far as we have heard.

We give the result of the election in this city, by which it will be seen that the Opposition candidates have an average majority of thirty-seven votes. Anne Arundel county and Annapolis city are yet to be heard from. It is probable that the Administration candidates are elected by a majority of between one and two hundred votes.

At the presidential election the majority for Harrison in Annapolis was 66; in Anne Arundel county 154.

THIRD DISTRICT.

Governor's Town.—James W. Williams, Dem. 140. John C. Orrick, Independent, 30.

Mrs. Gove's Lectures. This lady is delivering a course of lectures to the ladies on the means of promoting and preserving health, which is certainly a most important subject for female consideration. We understand that some of the fashionable ladies of New York have, at her suggestion, adopted a substitute for the corsets, which, whilst it preserves the shape, prevents injury to the health; and this substitute she either has exhibited, or intends to submit, to the class attending her lectures. There are few young ladies, we presume, who are not matrimonially disposed, and who would not wish to enjoy the connubial state healthily and happily; and yet the prevailing fashion of compressing the lungs by tight lacing, has the direct effect of debilitating the system, and rendering females unfit for the domestic duties. They can laugh at the tiny foot of the Chinese beauty, and marvel how so absurd a fashion could ever be tolerated; but it is not half so prejudicial to health as that of tight lacing. If, therefore, Mrs. Gove can change the fashion, and get the ladies to dress so that they may breathe with freedom, she will not only be a benefactor to the present but to future generations. We hope that her lectures will be well attended, and that she may successfully exert her eloquence and influence in procuring so desirable a reformation. We know that we interfere in ladies' affairs at the hazard of having our ears boxed, but we hold them in such high estimation and know that they exercise so great and deserved a control over human affairs, that we would sooner undergo their cuffs, than to be silent when we see them willfully destroying their health. "What God makes crooked, man cannot make straight," says the good book; and the fair sex should remember, that what He makes straight, they should not make crooked; therefore corsets and bustles are both useless. The one destroys the health and the other deforms the person. Let both be abandoned, and nature resume her supremacy.

The Philadelphia Spirit of the Times is a political paper of talent and wit; but we regret that the editor sometimes uses his satire where it should be spared. In his last number he has a very exceptional article on the Fast Day. We cannot see any necessary connection between a day set apart for fasting, humiliation and prayer, and the party politics of the day; and yet the editor has brought them together, and recommends that the day be hereafter called St. Tip. If this be writ it is misapplied. We like to read the articles in the Spirit of the Times, for they have originality and vigor; but we would advise the editor to "render unto Caesar that which is Caesar's; and unto God that which is God's;" in other words, never to mingle religious and political matters together.

A LAUNCH. We witnessed, yesterday evening, the launch of a clipper-built schooner from the yard of Mr. Michl Gardner, called "Isabel."—She was built, we understand, by order, for a West India merchant. It is a perfect beauty in model, and will no doubt reflect much credit on her builder.

OUR NEW POSTMASTER. To-day, Thomas Finley, Esq. by virtue of his appointment, takes charge of the Baltimore Post Office.

POLITICAL DIFFERENCES. A contrary opinion as to public men and measures is the necessary result of free institutions; and this difference of sentiment, whilst contained within the limits of discretion, is not only salutary under a republican system of government, but the surest guarantee of liberty. It subjects the conduct of public men to a vigilant scrutiny, which will recall them when they go astray, and generally prevent their overstepping the limits of duty. Under such government parties must, of necessity, exist; and it is only when they lose sight of principles and degenerate into factions, that their existence is pernicious to the commonwealth. This was the case in the early days of the French Republic, where tyranny was exercised, and the most horrible bocheries perpetrated, in the sacred name of liberty. Factional combinations seized upon public enthusiasm, and directed it to the most terrible results. Reason, justice and mercy, were alike trampled under foot; and, with "liberty and equality" on the lips, these factions exercised the most cruel of all despotisms. Ambitious demagogues directed the popular phrenzy to their own interested views; and the best blood of France was poured out like water to satiate the vengeance of the lowest and most despicable of tyrants.

Fortunately for the United States parties here are more patriotic in intention; more sincere in their attachment to liberty; and more moderate in the promulgation of their political principles. However warmly and zealously party contests may be conducted, and however earnest the desire for victory; the excitement subsides with the termination of the election, and men settle down to their usual avocations and continue their amicable relations, as though nothing had occurred to ruffle their dispositions, or to disturb their social tranquillity. This happy spirit of toleration distinguishes our country above all others in existence; and exhibits the beauty and perfection of our republican system of government in the most exalted light. It is here that the true and genuine spirit of freedom exists; and it is here that it ought to be peculiarly cherished. There is no nation that has greater cause of gratitude to a benignant Providence than ours. Free as the air we breathe—untrammelled in the exercise of our civil, religious and political rights, we have all that could be asked with propriety, or granted with benefit—and, if we fall from this "high estate," it must be by the prostitution of our privileges, and the abandonment of our most sacred obligations. We must be careful, then, never to permit our political differences to exceed the limits of sound discretion. Each party may struggle ardently for the supremacy, and each be animated by the sincere desire to promote the general prosperity and happiness—this is a glorious contest for the public good—it is an emulation which deserves the highest commendation: the political battle over, the vanquished must yield with grace, and the victorious rule with justice and mercy. Nothing will have a greater tendency to generate implacable faction—nothing be more detrimental to the public interests, than indiscriminate proscription. It is contrary to sound policy and correct principle—to justice and morality; and should be avoided as a rock upon which the republic may be wrecked.

GREEN MOUNT CEMETERY. This delightful though solemn repository of the dead, we are happy to perceive, is fast improving, and will ere long become one of the most charming resorts in our country. It has already become the daily retreat of hundreds, who, tired of the city turmoil, repair thither to enjoy not only the sweets of a perambulation, but the still and chastening reflections so natural when approaching the tombs, where sleep in death those of our kind. Spring has clad this hallowed spot with her verdant mantle. Flowers of variegated tints may be seen in all directions, which, while they charm the eye, enrich the atmosphere with a mingling of the most refreshing odors. Thus while these "angel alphabets," as they have been termed, teach the wisdom and goodness of a great first cause, from them may also be read the important truth, that beauty blooms to die. Upon the boughs of the giant oaks and trees of smaller growth which have been planted, some by the hand of Nature, and others by the hand of man, are many birds warbling their enchanting melodies. The eye is met in almost every direction by the tomb, the monument and the mausoleum, sacred to the memory of those earthly course has been forever closed. Through the deep avenues and winding pathways, the living are seen passing and repassing, each countenance bearing evidence of solemn reflection. We are glad to learn that the behaviour of all who visit the Cemetery is circumspect. No rudeness is admitted within its sacred limits. Of this place our city may be proud; it is an ornament which cannot but gain admiration from all, and to know it as our long home on earth, would seem almost to soothe the pains of death.

SENTENCE OF DEATH. Yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, sentence of death was passed upon Sarah Ann White, in the criminal court at Philadelphia. Application was made for a new trial but refused. Her counsel, R. M. Lee, Esq. rose and stated to the Court that he held in his hand a paper in the hand-writing of the prisoner, which she had requested should be read aloud. It was as follows:—

"If such then is the decision of this Court, I now stand in the presence of my God, and say I am innocent of the charges preferred against me; but I will endeavor to forgive those who have so irreparably injured me."
SARAH ANN COLEMAN."

ANTIDOTE TO POISON. It is said that the deadliest poison may be counteracted, by simply making two ounces of magnesia in a quart of water, or the same quantity of common whitening, and forcing it into the stomach by the readiest means at hand—the stomach, being the best.

BALTIMORE—PENNSYLVANIA AND THE WEST.

[CORRESPONDENCE.]

Baltimore, May 10th, 1841.

Wm. Bose, Esq.
Dear Sir: The undersigned were among the number of your fellow citizens who were prevented from being present last week, at the delivery of your address on the subject of "The Resources of Pennsylvania and the West, and the Relations of Trade which Baltimore now occupies in reference to them." The testimony of those who heard it is unanimous in favor of its ability, and the great importance to this community of the facts detailed in it. May we ask of you, therefore, on behalf of ourselves as well as others of your fellow citizens, similarly circumstanced, the favor to repeat the address at such time and place as may best suit your own convenience.

Very respectfully, yours, &c.
LEO'D. JARVIS, THOS. M. LOCKE,
WM. SCHLEY, J. & A. H. HERR,
SAML. JONES, JR. LOWRY & GILL,
SELLMAN & CROOK, ENOCH PRATT,
HUGH JENKINS, KERNAN & STILLINGER,
BALTIMORE, May 15, 1841.

Genlemen: I have deferred a reply to your very flattering note, until I should be able to designate a time and place for the repetition of the address which you have done me the honor to call for. I now beg leave respectfully to say that on THURSDAY EVENING NEXT, the 20th instant, at eight o'clock, at the Musical Saloon in the Assembly Rooms, it will afford me great pleasure to repeat my address on "The Resources of Pennsylvania and the West, and the Relations of Trade which Baltimore now occupies in reference to them."

With great respect, yours, &c.
WM. BOSE.

To L. Jarvis, Esq. Wm. Schley, Esq. and others.

WEATHERWISE. Among the various methods of making money, we know of none easier than that of telling fortunes or foretelling weather; for, to make fair promises in all cases takes no time, and is always most agreeable. Thomas Hague, Astrometeorologist, of Philadelphia, has, no doubt, a lucrative business, for he seems to be consulted on many occasions. The following prediction, as to the weather this day, appeared in the Spirit of the Times of yesterday. As usual he promises fair weather; and if it should rain, (and it looks and feels very like it at the time of writing this paragraph,) he has only to lay the fault on the clouds, and his prophetic character will be unimpaired. If men will seek to be humbugged, it had as well be done by this pretended astrologer, as by another person.

Mr. Editor:—I have been called on this day, (Saturday,) by a well wisher to the Odd Fellows. His request was a knowledge of the weather that would be witnessed in our city on Tuesday, the 19th inst. We told him that the voice of the stars promised a fair day, cumulus clouds and brisk winds. We will see.

NEW MAIL ARRANGEMENT. The Nat. Intelligencer says the Postmaster General has effected an arrangement with the Philadelphia and Baltimore Rail Road Company to transport the Great Eastern Mail, agreeably to the schedules of the last spring and summer; so that it will leave Philadelphia for Baltimore about mid night, or upon its arrival from New York, arrive in Baltimore about 8 o'clock, A. M. and in this city in the train of cars which arrives about 11 o'clock, A. M. and thence depart for the South at noon on the same day. The arrangement will go into effect in a few days.

MORE OF THE MARVELLOUS. We copy from the National Intelligencer a letter said to have been written by an officer on board the Exploring Expedition to a brother officer in this country.—This letter is evidently of the Munchausen school, and is copied by us for the amusement of our readers.

We have no doubt that discoveries valuable to science have been or may be made in the antarctic regions, and we feel some curiosity to have a full and official report from the Exploring Expedition. Having ascertained the existence of a southern continent, every effort should be made to explore it, if for scientific purposes only.

IMPORTANT TO NAVIGATORS. We have been informed, says the U. S. Gazette, that the light on Carysford's Reef, on the eastern coast of Florida, is not correctly laid down on all the charts, some of them placing it eighteen miles out of the way. A gentleman recently arrived from Nassau, New Providence, procured from Mr. Bacon, the American Consul, at that port, a statement politely furnished to him by Commander Barret, of Her Britannic Majesty's surveying ship Thunder, the exact position of this light, as follows, viz: latitude 25.12.00 North, longitude 80.16.20 West.

A CHILD KICKED BY A HORSE. Edward Richardson, a son of Mrs. Augustus Richardson, the actress, aged about four years, was very badly kicked by a horse on Wednesday last. The accident happened at Mr. Frost's, about five miles from the city. The boy was kicked on the forehead, and so severe were the wounds that four physicians were called in, all of whom for some time despaired of his life. We are happy to learn, however, that the child is now in a fair way of recovery.

THE BELL. The fine Oratorio of "the Bell," is to be performed this evening, at the Assembly Rooms, by the German Association and Leidenkrantz, there are also other entertainments, as may be perceived by referring to the programme. We hope our German friends will not have to rely entirely on their own countrymen for support—a rich treat is offered to the lovers of music, and it is but reasonable to expect that there will be an assemblage of natives, as well as foreigners.

WATCH RETURNS. Eastern District, May 15. Benjamin Fowler came in for lodging. Elizabeth Davis was brought in drunk. John Develin came in for lodging. 16th—John Develin brought in charged with being drunk and noisy. A Dutchman brought in at half-past 12 o'clock drunk and noisy.

Middle District, May 15th. One white man brought in before watch hours and left for the police. 16th—Felix McCann was brought in, charged with beating his wife:—no one appearing against him he was released in the morning. John Gorman, a boy, was found asleep in F. Murray's stable. A black man brought in for strolling the streets after hours. Two white men admitted to lodging.

Western District, May 15th. Wm. McClunk found drunk in the street. John Trustman brought in for lodging. Moses Faulk, negro, found drunk. Aquilla and Joseph Bandle, drunk and quarrelling to the disturbance of the neighborhood. Mary Antony, col'd, found lying in the street drunk. 16th—George Byal, Wm. Hardesty and Mathias Bassey, negroes, were brought in at half-past 10 o'clock, found rioting in Brandy alley. Wm. Briar, charged with abusing his mother. One white man came in for lodging.

COMMODORE STEWART. The friends of this gentleman are resolved, that if this veteran commander be not made the next President, it shall not be for want of putting forth his claims in time. He has been announced in Philadelphia, and Ironsides clubs are being formed to support his pretensions. To this we have no objection, as the field is open for all, and Commodore Stewart has the same right as another to enter the lists. He has "done the state some service," and if he could manage the ship of state with the same skill that he can manœuvre a line-of-battle ship, he would make a first rate president.

SUPPOSED MURDER. A Mrs. Bartel, of Richmond, died very suddenly a few days since. The circumstances attending the case are said to be very suspicious. It is rumored, says the Star, that her death was caused by blows from her husband, who was in the habit of beating her most cruelly. Both of them were in the habit of constant brawling and fighting. We do not learn, however, that he has been arrested, or any steps taken to investigate the affair.

TENNESSEE ELECTION. The election in Tennessee took place on the 6th inst. We have only accounts from Nashville, and a few precincts in Davidson county. Mr. CARTWRIGHT, (Whig) is elected to Congress from the District, by a considerable majority to succeed Mr. Bell. In Nashville the vote stood Cartwright 618 (Democrat) 291. At the Presidential election, Mr. Harrison's majority was only 211. Whigs only 327.

A MONUMENT TO WASHINGTON. It is stated in the Phila. Daily Chronicle that a contract has been concluded with Messrs. Peitrich & Struthers, for the erection in that city of a pedestrian monument to the great and good Washington.—The cost will be $10,000. The monument is to be placed in Washington Square. The model from which it is to be executed is in an apartment of the Exchange.

THE CROPS. The Centreville (Md.) Times, of Saturday, says: "Here's the 15th of May, and our farmers are not yet done planting corn! More than one month behind the usual time! and what corn has been planted, has not yet come up, if it ever will. The greatest anxiety prevails amongst the farmers, some of whom have sown their corn fields down in oats. It will be utterly impossible to make fair crops of corn the present year."

IMPROVEMENT. We observe that Barnum's Hotel is undergoing a thorough and entire course of repairs both inside and out. This will not only add much to the comfort and convenience of the establishment, but also to the appearance of our city in that fashionable region. The business of the hotel is now under the entire control of Mr. David Barnum its former popular conductor and present proprietor.

DISGRACEFUL LYNCHING. We learn from the Little Rock Advocate, that on the 15th ult. about a mile from that city, a set of brutes in human form, unmercifully whipped and beat a man, by the name of Tabley H. Stewart, and it is said robbed him of a considerable sum of money. Stewart was charged with a crime on the day previous, and lawfully discharged; but this did not save him from the hands of his accusers.

The jury in the case of Ezra White in the N. Y. Oyer and Terminer, returned a verdict on Friday night at midnight of guilty of manslaughter in the 3d degree. The verdict was in these words—"Guilty of manslaughter in the third degree, and we unanimously recommend him to the mercy of the Court."

The Legislature of New York have passed the Appropriation Bill by an overwhelming majority. The bill appropriates $2,150,000 for the Erie Canal Enlargement, $300,000 for the Black River Canal, and $550,000 for the Genesee Valley Canal—total, $3,000,000. The vote for the passage of the bill stood 77, and against it 33.

It is stated that Mississippi will not be represented at the Extra Session of Congress. Gov. McNutt has declined calling an Extra Session of the Legislature for the purpose of appointing a period for the election, and does not consider himself authorized to order an election without the intervention of the Legislature.

LAKE ERIE. The editor of the Detroit Journal in a letter written while on his passage between Detroit and Buffalo, says—"At one time to-day there were seven steamboats in sight at once! The Rochester, North America, Cleveland, New England, Robert Fulton, Com. Perry and the Chesapeake. It was a majestic sight, and gave rich food for reflection."

COMMUNICATION.
We understand SCHAEFFER had the good fortune to sell in the Va. Lottery, drawn on Saturday last, one ticket No. 42128, a prize of $1000, and promptly paid the cash on presentation of the ticket. "It's cash that makes us independent. Excites us on to deeds transcendent. Fills us with ambition's strife." Yes, it is CASH that in these times does such wonders, and is the object of all. Do you wish to know where it can be got? It is at SCHAEFFER'S, No. 156 Baltimore-st., where lots of it may be had!!! Go and purchase a ticket To-day in the Alexandria Lottery, and obtain that snug prize of $10,000—on To-morrow he offers you the $13,000 in Md. Lottery, and on Saturday $25,295 for only $10. m18-11"

ANOTHER GOOD SALE OF PRIZES!
Mr. WARD'S BENEFIT. Mr. WARD presents his respectful compliments to his friends, the public of Baltimore, and takes leave to announce that his Benefit is fixed for WEDNESDAY EVENING, 19th inst. on which occasion an excellent Comedy will be performed, supported by Mr. WATSON, Mr. PHILLIPS, and the Theatrical members of the Front street Theatre, who have most kindly volunteered their assistance. The entertainment will conclude with a selection of the very best Circle Performances, and OTTO MOTTLY'S wonderful feats, being his last appearance but one. Mr. W. takes this opportunity of returning his grateful thanks for former favors, and although the theatrical profession is now much depressed throughout the Union, he hopes, upon its revival, to be through out the first to assist in its resuscitation in Baltimore, the city of his adoption. m18-11"
