LOCAL NEWS.

Substitute Brokers.—Col. Jeffries has issued the following circular in relation to substitute brokers:—Numerous irresponsible parties in the State of Maryland having, without authority, engaged in the business of furnishing substitutes to drafted men, and by dishonest practices having, it is believed, in many instances, defrauded the substitutes of the whole or a portion of the consideration to which such substitutes, under their contract, were entitled, and, in other instances, having aided desertion from the army by inducing soldiers to enlist as substitutes, District Provost Marshals are directed to arrest all persons assuming to act as substitute agents, who cannot produce authority from this office for such action.

While it is intended that every facility shall be given to all concerned to procure substitutes and representative recruits, it is equally important to the service and the citizen, that parties transacting business with substitute agents, shall have some assurance that they are dealing with honest men.

Applications for authority to act as such agents must be filed in this office, accompanied by the oath of allegiance, and indisputable evidence of loyalty and integrity on the part of the applicant.

Mill Burned.—At three o'clock yesterday morning, the large mill belonging to the estate of Solomon H. Davis, situated on Gwynn Falls, distant four and a half miles from this city, was destroyed by fire, the work of an incendiary, as supposed. The mill was in the charge of and ran on account of Henry M. Warfield, Esq. There were about 4,000 empty barrels in it at the time, but very little grain. The loss will be upwards of $30,000, which is supposed to be covered by insurance.

Fire.—On Saturday evening, a few nights ago, the barn and stables of Mr. Peter Hammill, near the Powhatan Factory, together with a large quantity of hay and grain, and several valuable horses, were also destroyed. This was the villainous act of thieving incendiaries, who are infesting portions of the rural districts.

Charged with Swindling.—A man named George F. Davenport, was arrested yesterday morning, charged by William McCormick, tailor, corner Baltimore and Calvert streets; with having passed upon him a bogus check, calling for $250. The accused on Saturday obtained upwards of one hundred dollars from Mr. McCormick on the draft, and again visited him at night for money enough to purchase a gold watch. Mr. McCormick, however, did not advance the money, and other actions of the accused at a later hour caused the holder of the draft to suspect that the paper was bogus, and Davenport was arrested. He was held for a hearing by Justice Spicer until this morning, when information as to the genuineness of the draft will be obtained from New York.

Excursions.—A grand picnic under the auspices of the German Relief Union Association, for the relief of sick and wounded soldiers, will be held at Greenwood, on the Belair road, tomorrow. All the singing associations, Winter's celebrated Baltimore brass band will be in attendance.

The Sunday Schools attached to the Franklin street M. E. Church, will give an excursion to-morrow, to Chesnut Grove, a most delightful resort. Theft of Wearing Apparel.—For some time past Mr. Moses L. Parisot, proprietor of the Head Tavern, on Paca street, has missed various articles of clothing, linen, table cloths, towels, &c., but could not tell who to charge with the theft, until yesterday, when suspicion was directed to a girl employed in the house, named Elizabeth Weeks. She was arrested and taken before Justice Dryden, when she acknowledged to taking some of the articles. The mother of the girl was also arrested, charged with receiving the things, knowing them to be stolen. The Justice held both the mother and daughter to bail, or the action of the Grand Jury.

The Bounty.—Our city authorities are making strenuous efforts to fill the quota of the city in the President's last call previous to the time set forth in the proclamation so as to avoid the necessity of a draft. The Mayor has convened the City Council in special session, and the Committee of Ways and Means of that body are perfecting an ordinance giving a bounty that will make it an object to volunteer. They expect to be ready to report the bill this evening, when it is supposed that it will pass both branches of the Council and become a law immediately. The bounty paid by the United States added to that which the city will pay, make altogether quite a handsome amount.

Sales of Property.—Messrs. Adreon & Co., auctioneers, sold at the Exchange sales-rooms on Saturday, two lots of ground on the north side of Cross street, near the marine railway of Messrs. Applegarth, each fronting 16 feet by a good depth, and each improved by a good two story brick dwelling house, known as Nos. 12 and 14. The first was purchased by W. T. Seagar for $910, and the last by D. Noble, for $1,175. Also a lot of ground fronting 14 feet on Vine street, with a depth of 45 feet, improved by a two-story brick dwelling and one-story brick kitchen; purchased by N. Rogers for $320.

Charged with being a Spy.—Detective Mace, of Major Blumenburg's force, yesterday arrested James Welch, a rebel soldier, charged with being a spy. He was locked up in the Central Police station for the orders of the Major. The accused was one of the number who, under Major Gilmore, made a raid on the Philadelphia road, and was arrested yesterday at Stemmer's Run, where he was waiting to take passage on the Philadelphia train.

Christy's Minstrels.—This excellent company was received last night by an excellent audience, and the reputation of the organization was fully sustained. The different members are capital performers, and are decidedly more talented than any others of similar organization that have visited our city in many years. The programme is changed nightly.

Theft.—Wm Miller, Charles Beckus and Alexander Myers, colored boys, were arrested yesterday afternoon, charged with stealing a quantity of sheathing metal from the ship yard of Wm. Reed & Co., on Fell street.—Justice Duncan committed the accused to jail for trial.

Trotting Match.—A spirited trotting match under the supervision of the Flora Temple Trotting Association, will take place to-morrow afternoon over the Herring Run Course. The horses are celebrated for fast time, and an excellent contest will be had.

Abusive.—John H. Walton was arrested yesterday, charged with abusing Catharine Heaton. He was released on security to keep the peace by Justice Duncan. Henry Farrell was also arrested, charged with abusing his wife. Justice Whalen released him on security to keep the peace.

Disloyal.—Henry Ostendorff was arrested last night in a drinking house on Harrison street, charged with abusing Frederick Oosack and uttering treasonable language. He was locked up in the police station, and will be handed over to Major Blumenberg to-day.
