The exports to foreign countries, for the two past weeks, amounted to the sum of about sixteen and a kalf millione, and this is about the dullest business season of the year. These facts all tend to prove the great recources, wealth and prosperity of the country, so twithstanding we are engaged in A war which requires, from the two sections, a million or more of men, in arms, besides a vast number in addition, employed as eater. ers for them, in some shape or form. And notwithstanding all the one-sided and garbled statements of a purchased press, and of the hireling agents of the rebels, in Europe, to decry our country and lis cause, it is very evident that there is not only an increasing fo to Thomas Shakes, 36 M.
