FOR PRESIDENT: ABRAHAM LINCOLN, of Illinois. FOR VICE PRESIDENT: ANDREW JUHNSON, of Tennessee.

UANADA.—History, we are told, repeats itself, and sometimes it is found to do so in a very striking manner, and at others in a most ludicrons way. Some of our readers may have heard the song, set to music, of "Massa run away". It cently at the house of an old friend, a planter in an adjoining county, whose darkeys had nearly all given him th good-by, we were greatly amused at hearing his lovely daughter singing the piece, accomparied by the piano, which the old gentleman seemed to enjoy with much gasto. The idea presented in the song was a some in a South ern State, where the "Yankees" had made their appearance, and the planter had run | away, leaving his servants to fare as best h they could. The scene may well be imagined of the darkeys in the parlor, with the wines i of the head of the patriarchical isstitution freely delivered from their confinement in the cellar, and all the elesteras connected with the establishment.

The fact strongly reminds one of the con cition of the neighboring province close to programme.
