He it was who almost the carliest showed himself openly in affiliation with the Charleston traitors; and although the Ohic martyr has proved himself more noisy, more blatent, yet the subtle wickedness of his New York compeer, persisted in, was largely instrumental in bringing about the New York riots, and tells the story of his villainous ambition, of his persistent determination to ruit where he cannot rule. But here is the letter in which he arows his preference for the war man on a peace platferm:

NEW YORK, Sept. 12, 1864. Dear Sir-Your invitation to address the 19th Ward McClellan Minute Guard, is received. I regret that your meeting is for tomorrow afternoon, and shall not therefore be In New York Unon some other occasion it will give me pieusare to address the Minute Guard, and to add my voice to the themisance who are preparing to elect George B. McClellan oue next President.

Although I was opposed to the nomination of that distinguished man, yet when the Convention decided in his favor he became in candidate, and he shall have my earnest and determined support.

I hope to address the ratification meeting on Saturday next at Union Square, when ! shall give my restors more at length. Thatking you for the invitation, I am very FERNANDO WOOD.

FRANK MCELBOY. Whether Fernando has gone into the Mc Clellan ranks with his usual subtlety of purpose, and with a purpose to betray it, remains to be seen. As the very founder of the Pesce | ancholy, Pain in the Bick, Fever and Ague, party, as the man who gave Horatio Seymour | Kidney Affections, &c. &c. But let us go back to the record in this care; let us look at another phase of the character of this new ally of the "Little Napolcon."

Whilst treasen has been pretty well outspoken on the part of Vallandigham ever since John U. Breckinridge helped to launch him on his career, all know that from the first beginning of actual heatilities, the record of Fernando Wood has been as black with trea sonable utterances as it well could be.
