THE ORIGIN OF THE CHICAGO

PLATFORM. The venerable Dr. Breckintidge of Kentucky, made a speech a few days since at

are called to sacrifice. In the first place, look at the platform of Chicago. Let me tell | you a secret about that platform. It was made, long before the Convention met, at the Clifton House, in Canada, made by the representatives of the Confederate government, in concert with the leaders of the Peace party in the North.

You ask how I know this? On the 8th of August, twenty days before that Convention ! the European organ opposed to the loyal States, wrote a letter which was published in that sheet, stating precisely the leading torms of the Chicago platform as agreed on there and then, and as to be adopted at Chicago. -There were three propositions distinctly stated Lincoln and the putting in of somebody who | ross:ed whole, music to discourse inspiring in Chicago, the terms of that platform are Go by all means. published in the London Times, on the other ! just as you received it from Chicago.

terms. I was satisfied they were there for matter. devilment, and not for good. The talk of South, and the other pertion supporting treatment of the family physician of Mr. Led them in the North, who were regotiating lies, is improving. terms of co-operation. The one-half, I say, are fighting us at the South, and the other half forming conspiracies and arming their secret sons in the North; and they of the send commissioners to the Clifton House in Canada, and they of the Bouth already have their commissioners there. They met and agreed upon a common platform, which is taken to Chicago and ratified by the Convention.

When the great political struggles of 1840 and 1844 were made, none other than he was suggested to lead in the cenvair. So in 1860 there was abundant competition as to which State should furnish the Republican nominee for President; but no one ever suggested that among the eminent and honored Republicans of Illinois there was another possible candidate than Lincoln .-- Andsew Johnson .- Andrew Johnson entered Tennessee an illiterate tailor youth poor as Lizarus in all but hope and ambition, without a relative or friend who could belo him to a corporalship in the smallest compa ny of "floodwood" militis. A few years la ter he was a member of Aszembly; next we hear from him in Congress: then Governor his closely-balanced State, after a spirited canvass, for Tennessee was then preporderently a Whig State, and her Whigs always ran for Governor one of their ablest and cleverest debaters: Johnson had always been very ardent and active Democrat, and had made himself widely obnoxious to his political adversaries. His birth and breeting were matters of common notoriety, and the trapeze act, acquitted themselves with great cultivated aristocracy of Nashville and the credit. In fact there was so much worth surrounding region were not at all inclined Jonesborough. They could not help themselves, however, and Johnson, after serving his term as Governor, was chosen to the United States Senate, where he made good position against the ablest and proudest in the
