THE GROWING FEBOCITY OF THE REBEL LEADERS.

COL. JOHN C. HOLLAND, 5th

The Richmond papers are getting perfectly ferecious. One of them exults that some of Early's troops "take no prisoners," and this atrectous sentiment has been so often ad ranced there, that it is no wonder that the acoutain and highwayman-Moseby-actually had a black flag made, and is heard of as only a murderer and sacak wherever he is heard of at all. The protext for this late fresh outpouring of vecom by the Richmond press is that the valley of the Shenandsah, their granary, has been by the stern necessities of war rendered at last nicless to them, that | they are no longer privileged to be the robbers . themselves of the poor people they have used every infernal art to wile to ruin.

But who set the example in this matter of "ork." destroying property? who first insisted on it as a "necessity?"
