LET THE DEAD BURY THEI DEAD."

Haryland has given up slavery, abandoned It by the vote of the people, and by to doing sorq red gotu garb a as it bezingcerr sail perity, and a prime cause of the war which has, and is desciating the land. From the commencement of the contact, the South, the revolutionary States, following the lead South Carolina, had proclaimed a purpose t "deliver Maryland;" to bring her out from amongst the loyel States, and the process by which it was to be accomplished her people are compelled to remember, for her fields regioning with the battle of Bouth Mountain were ploughed by cannon abot, her Louses and great public works again and again giver to destruction. Bo rough a woolng has seldon failen to the lot of a State, because if we were to calculate in money the direct icases inflicted upon the commonwealth, especially upon the line of the great railroad built at such immense labor and cost by her people, millions upor millions would not probably cover these lesses. Nay, if we put in all the lorres incidentally incurred by these raids of our especial and 'loving friends over the border, it is prebable that twenty millions of dollars would hardly wake good the damage inflicted upon the commonwealth.

Well, who have been the sufferers, princi pally, by this condition of things? We do no: mesh now to mention, right here, the lesse: by the depreciation of slave property; we wil come to that by and by. Let all take note and remember, that in the outset of the con fliet, the lower or stare holding counties were | well, and altria a poke of her "as a young | Dr. George D. Madd. almost wholly exempted from danger, slarm and suffering. Protected from raids by the very circumstances of the case, the slavehold ing interest looked on with the greatest complacency, whilst efforts were made from Hick mond to bring them within the lines of thet slave holding confederacy which promited to be so triumphant, so great, backed by the sympathy at that time of France and England Talk to these men at that time of "compensation," and they tosted back their heads it utter diedein of the word. Moro than this they excouraged their sors and brothers to cross into Virginia to take up arms to bring about that millenial period, when the promiter | tober, that int, at Saint Ignatius Church, by the of Jeff. Davis, occasionally fulminated from Biohmond, should be made good in the "deliverance of Maryland." Who has forgottet that about the time referred to, a "committee" from the lower part of the State waited upon the great slave autograt with an "address;" and who does not remember that thereafter the ladles of "Prince George" sent General Lee a pair of "golden spuis" in warm commendation and appreciation of his partial success in bringing the horrors of a bloody intagion Into the upper counties of the State .- | ginia. All this is matter of bistory, history which carnot he impugned. But meanwhile, sensible men here saw that long before Jeff. Davis could make good his promises to the slave interest of Maryland, the interest its: if would collapse; would be come reluciess. And taking that view of the case, an earnest effort was made to save to the State the value of said interest, by urging on the General Government the appropriation of twenty, and afterwards of ten millions, to remove so much of the bone of contention at made Maryland a commonwealth to be cov eted and woodd with thre and sword, by the elavery propagandists of the Bouth. But no we repeat it—the slave Interest here could not "see it;" were blind and deaf too, to all arguholders of the State came to the conclusion that it was time to throw overboard that beign which put the ship in deadly peril in the great storm which had arisen.

. Well, from that time "compensation" coased to be a word with the great body of our citizers, but the slave interest thoroughly alarm ed, at lest, hastened to take it up. They now could have "compensation;" then "had no Clothing, Ready . "are or Made to Order, you can right to vote away other people's preparty" in the manner proposed. But they had dallied | Baltimore and Frederick streets, than you would ! no long that the delay had become fatal.
