

DAILY CLIPPER.

W. W. WALES.....Publisher.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 2, 1861.

National Union Nominations.

FOR PRESIDENT:

AUSTRALIAN LINCOLN, of Illinois.
ANDREW JOHNSON, of Tennessee.

ELECTORAL TICKET.

State at Large—WM. J. ALBERT.
H. H. GOODE, BROUGH.
1st District—WM. C. GRAYSON.
WM. N. REEVES.
H. S. MATTHEWS.
ISAAC NEBUSH.
GEO. W. SANDS.

FOR GOVERNOR,
HON. THOMAS SWANN, of Baltimore.
DR. CHRISTOPHER G. COOPER, Talbot Co.
A. T. GALT, of Anne Arundel.

HON. ALEX. RANDALL, of Anne Arundel.
ROBERT J. JUMP, Esq., Caroline Co.
J. C. JONES, of Frederick Co.
HON. DANNY C. FEELEY, Washington Co.
HON. J. A. C. CREWELL, 1st District.
HON. EDWIN H. WEINSTEIN, 2d d.
HON. CHARLES E. TURNER, 3d d.
HON. DANIEL THOMAS, 4th d.
COL. JOHN C. HOLLAND, 5th d.

THE DEMAND FOR "PEACE"—THE EIGHT OF MARYLAND TO PURSUE HER OWN COURSE.

The Copperhead faction who make McClellan the representative of their principles, assume by their claim to be the especial advocates of "peace," would make it appear that they alone deserve it. Now this is not so. No man is more sure desirous of it than Mr. Lincoln, or Mr. Stanton, whose special office it is to organize these tremendous war movements which constantly send thousands to the field. Generals Grant and Sherman, and Admiral Farragut want peace; but it is because they want it so much, that they make war—"Peace"—wrote Napoleon from the heart of Germany to his brother Joseph, who wanted peace, "is a word that means nothing. It is the condition of peace that all."

One of the curiosities of this great conflict is, that in the outset it was loudly declared by the "chivalry" of the South—who themselves went into the fight with such clarity—that "the North could not be kicked into a fight"; yet now their grief is, that it cannot be made to leave off. As in the attempt to make slavery more general and to give it greater security, they have gotten altogether over than they bargained for; so in their readiness to make war, they have—so some of their papers ex press it—"gotten past the romance of it."

Maryland wants peace; has wanted it from the beginning; and if she was momentarily compromised on this point by the events of the nineteenth of April, the consolation of the Union men of the State, is, that those who injured her fair fame so loyal to the Union, have had to flee her borders, and have in many instances already paid the just penalty of their crimes in attempting to bring upon our city and State the horrors of war.

But in existing about for peace—for security in the future,—what course could she pursue with wisdom but that very one she has sought to follow from the beginning? In her case there has been no occasion for herself to make costly experiments as to the wisest and best method of keeping her territory from being the frightfulness of war and dissolution, since Virginia, her immediate neighbor, volunteered in the outset to make all the experiments in this line necessary. Recalling the honor conferred by South Carolina of being made the bulwark of slavery—and to the extent she might,—the barrier to the invasion of the cotton States, it is for us now to ensure her the bitter experiences she is having, is there now a sane man in Maryland who would accept for the State the lot set so deliberately aside?

Let all remember that the first condition of the programme insisted upon by South Carolina and the Gulf States in the attempt to break up the Union, was that no State was obliged to consult the wishes or the welfare of its neighbors, that is, "sovereignty" they might go and come in a confederacy without regard to the desires of any other. The theory is essentially a selfish one; it is mean, revolting to every generous sentiment or impulse; and yet it fairly scanned that is the very gist of the spirit which prompted all that has happened in the effort to destroy the Union. And if this is certainly so; if South Carolina, in the outset, couched at all attempts to hold her back, proclaiming a determination to go out of the Union whether any other State followed her or not, and regardless of consequences to others, what right has she or any of her school to complain of evil now, at anything Maryland has done in attending to her own interests? If she is—according to the secession theories,—"sovereign" in her right to act as an entirely independent State, what cause of complaint can any Southern State advocating secession have, to say that it is wrong to emancipate her slaves, wrong to abandon all thought—even with the concession hereof, of going with a confederacy which is on the high road to ruin?

Maryland wants "peace," we repeat, and it is her undoubted right to look for peace is her own way. So far in the conflict she did not disassociate, she has been entitled to a considerable extent to keep the theatre of conflict far from her doors, and in doing this she has, but followed the procedure established in the commencement by both South Carolina and Georgia, especially. Avoiding the purpose to keep the war far from themselves, fêtilating one another that States such as North Carolina and Virginia and Maryland, would form an insurmountable barrier to the evils of war, they left the border States also to do the best they could for themselves; and if Maryland more than any of these has been fortunate in escaping fire and sword, let her thank that statehood which refused all participation in the maddest and wildest which her distinguished the revolutionaries, and let her thank also the National Government, for bearing enough ret to hold the many here responsible for the follies and wickednesses of the few.

As matters have resulted, Maryland has passed the red to peace; and when the State Ruth can have peace, too. Nothing is more obvious than the policy needful to follow. It is simply to cease aggression—cease the attempt to overthrow the General Government, cease to dictate a course to other States, every whit as "sovereign," or of as much consequence as themselves. But they will not do this. They will not lay down their arms, disband their forces, become themselves the exemplars of that peace, which, with their to-goes, they advocate. And if they will not do this, who so foul is it that the war continues? A war which in the face of the world they issued. They will say, and all just men will say—let their punishment continue. Let them receive back with interest the blows they give, until they are beaten to a stand still. The alternative is simple and plain, and has been from the beginning. The President did not provoke the war. It was made before he went into office, and over and over he has offered them terms, "generosity," pardon, as States and individuals. Let a traitor come into the Federal line, staled all over with the innocent blood he has shed, the blood of the defenders of the Union—he is preferred the "cain of allegiance," and therefore entitled to immunity and leniency to repeat of his crime, and to be soonest once a good citizen. Not accepting the terms offered, there is but one other condition of peace that will ever be sanctioned by Gov. or people—let them be "subjugated"—broken into submission.

[COMMUNICATED.]

The Editor of the Clipper—You are right in saying our State is in danger, owing to an unparable apathy in the Union ranks. The rebels are everywhere quiet but silently at work, to bring out their whole force on Tuesday next, in hopes of finding the Union men too confident of success, and do not see the east importance of organizing and ready, to meet an unscrupulous foe. The people of Baltimore are under a heavy obligation to Thomas Swann, and should we all possible industry to ensure his election. Had it not been for him the beautiful Druid Hill Park would not have been purchased, our supply of pure water enlarged, a new jail erected, and many other improvements, all well calculated to advance the growth, prosperity and comfort of our citizens. I therefore call on all of our voters to come forward and do everything that truth and honor will justify to organize the wards, enrage their committees, attend the places of voting on the day of election, and see justice done to every citizen entitled to vote! The writer of this article has been a resident of Baltimore near seventy years, became a voter in 1802, has voted his sentiments every year since, and never deserted his post in the hour of danger, either for pleasure or gain. Should a kind Providence spare his life until the 6th of November, he will most sincerely give his vote to THOMAS SWANN.

COUNTRY NOMINATIONS.—The Union men of Harford county have selected the following ticket: State Senator, Thomas Archer; House of Delegates, David Lee, H. W. Raymond, A. Mottram and Dr. Samuel P. Ramsey.

MARYLAND UNBOUND.

To day slavery ceases in Maryland. A State fair and fertile as our own, only needed to be free to become as prosperous and happy—Maryland has long owned a divided race. Her climate, her geography, her material and social condition, were all favorable to the growth of the slaves. She was linked to the South mostly by a social institution. But her tendency has been for half a century steadily towards freedom, not could the prejudices of her people, the tyranny of her slaveholders successfully oppose the inevitable gravitation. In 1770 she had 8,043 free colored citizens, and 1,030 slaves. In 1840 there were 63,078 free blacks and 59,151 slaves. In 1850 there were 63,472 free, and 57,182 slaves.

Mark, by these records, how strongly the State has struggled to throw off the burden that has bowed her to the earth. Maryland would have been freed by her own law of development, even had she emancipated by the war and the simultaneous rebellion of slaves. The war will give it. It must give it. All cases of our assertion. In truth cases of enough or circumstances will be furnished through Spain, France and Portugal as acquired some experience in wine, and have fasted need to ex of the Samothrace vintage of America. In our opinion, this will be the greatest attraction to the market, and will be a general consideration in London and Paris, and with the index will become a general favorite of account of its non-inoxicating properties.—London Times.

CASE: Young Corcoran.—Fever.—Tuesday, Oct. 24, was admitted to the hospital, suffering from a severe attack of fever, and was sent to the hospital to be treated. His condition is now much improved, and he is expected to make a rapid recovery.

WICHITA.—In a recent issue of the London Times, we find an interesting article on wine, written in part, in English.

America now produces a wine excellent in quality and exquisite in flavor, at all points in which it equals, if not exceeds, the best European wines.

WICHITA.—In a recent issue of the same paper, it is stated that the wine produced in WICHITA, in the all-win dispensation of Almighty God, has been seen proper to remove from our ranks, and transplant to the joys of heaven, our master, John C. Turner, who had been connected with the Association, from the time of its organization, and the date of his entry into the ranks of the Association, down to the present time.

And whereas, the surviving members of this Association are not willing that the solemn occasion which has called them together should be disgraced by the presence of any member of the surviving partner of his bosom, to the parents, brothers and sisters, and other relatives and friends, and to the Union men of the city and State generally, the brethren of the Association, do hereby command, that by it is understood for visitation at the head of the Divine Dispenser of all things.

Therefore, be it resolved, That the white Association, and deeply deplored the sad circumstances under which they have met, yet it is a condition of feelings so uniting those that have thus honored their assembling together, they do hereby command, that the survivors of the Association, shall be present at the head of the Divine Dispenser of all things.

Resolved, That the soldiers of the Union, for whom we have had so much to do in their ranks, have lost a friend whose heart was ever beating in sympathy with the great cause they have sworn to maintain and defend, and whose voice was ever raised in their behalf, while he was the embodiment of the patriotic glow of the soldier and wounded in the hospital. And that this Association has lost a member whose purity of life and brightness of character will be missed by all, and his loss will be deeply felt by all.

Resolved, That the Union men of our city and State generally, the brethren of the Association, do hereby command, that by it is understood for visitation at the head of the Divine Dispenser of all things.

Resolved, That the soldiers of the Union, for whom we have had so much to do in their ranks, have lost a friend whose heart was ever

beating in sympathy with the great cause they have sworn to maintain and defend, and whose voice was ever raised in their behalf, while he was the embodiment of the patriotic glow of the soldier and wounded in the hospital. And that this Association has lost a member whose purity of life and brightness of character will be missed by all, and his loss will be deeply felt by all.

Resolved, That the Union men of our city and State generally, the brethren of the Association, do hereby command, that by it is understood for visitation at the head of the Divine Dispenser of all things.

Resolved, That the soldiers of the Union, for whom we have had so much to do in their ranks, have lost a friend whose heart was ever

beating in sympathy with the great cause they have sworn to maintain and defend, and whose voice was ever raised in their behalf, while he was the embodiment of the patriotic glow of the soldier and wounded in the hospital. And that this Association has lost a member whose purity of life and brightness of character will be missed by all, and his loss will be deeply felt by all.

Resolved, That the soldiers of the Union, for whom we have had so much to do in their ranks, have lost a friend whose heart was ever

beating in sympathy with the great cause they have sworn to maintain and defend, and whose voice was ever raised in their behalf, while he was the embodiment of the patriotic glow of the soldier and wounded in the hospital. And that this Association has lost a member whose purity of life and brightness of character will be missed by all, and his loss will be deeply felt by all.

Resolved, That the soldiers of the Union, for whom we have had so much to do in their ranks, have lost a friend whose heart was ever

beating in sympathy with the great cause they have sworn to maintain and defend, and whose voice was ever raised in their behalf, while he was the embodiment of the patriotic glow of the soldier and wounded in the hospital. And that this Association has lost a member whose purity of life and brightness of character will be missed by all, and his loss will be deeply felt by all.

Resolved, That the soldiers of the Union, for whom we have had so much to do in their ranks, have lost a friend whose heart was ever

beating in sympathy with the great cause they have sworn to maintain and defend, and whose voice was ever raised in their behalf, while he was the embodiment of the patriotic glow of the soldier and wounded in the hospital. And that this Association has lost a member whose purity of life and brightness of character will be missed by all, and his loss will be deeply felt by all.

Resolved, That the soldiers of the Union, for whom we have had so much to do in their ranks, have lost a friend whose heart was ever

beating in sympathy with the great cause they have sworn to maintain and defend, and whose voice was ever raised in their behalf, while he was the embodiment of the patriotic glow of the soldier and wounded in the hospital. And that this Association has lost a member whose purity of life and brightness of character will be missed by all, and his loss will be deeply felt by all.

Resolved, That the soldiers of the Union, for whom we have had so much to do in their ranks, have lost a friend whose heart was ever

beating in sympathy with the great cause they have sworn to maintain and defend, and whose voice was ever raised in their behalf, while he was the embodiment of the patriotic glow of the soldier and wounded in the hospital. And that this Association has lost a member whose purity of life and brightness of character will be missed by all, and his loss will be deeply felt by all.

Resolved, That the soldiers of the Union, for whom we have had so much to do in their ranks, have lost a friend whose heart was ever

beating in sympathy with the great cause they have sworn to maintain and defend, and whose voice was ever raised in their behalf, while he was the embodiment of the patriotic glow of the soldier and wounded in the hospital. And that this Association has lost a member whose purity of life and brightness of character will be missed by all, and his loss will be deeply felt by all.

Resolved, That the soldiers of the Union, for whom we have had so much to do in their ranks, have lost a friend whose heart was ever

beating in sympathy with the great cause they have sworn to maintain and defend, and whose voice was ever raised in their behalf, while he was the embodiment of the patriotic glow of the soldier and wounded in the hospital. And that this Association has lost a member whose purity of life and brightness of character will be missed by all, and his loss will be deeply felt by all.

Resolved, That the soldiers of the Union, for whom we have had so much to do in their ranks, have lost a friend whose heart was ever

beating in sympathy with the great cause they have sworn to maintain and defend, and whose voice was ever raised in their behalf, while he was the embodiment of the patriotic glow of the soldier and wounded in the hospital. And that this Association has lost a member whose purity of life and brightness of character will be missed by all, and his loss will be deeply felt by all.

Resolved, That the soldiers of the Union, for whom we have had so much to do in their ranks, have lost a friend whose heart was ever

beating in sympathy with the great cause they have sworn to maintain and defend, and whose voice was ever raised in their behalf, while he was the embodiment of the patriotic glow of the soldier and wounded in the hospital. And that this Association has lost a member whose purity of life and brightness of character will be missed by all, and his loss will be deeply felt by all.

Resolved, That the soldiers of the Union, for whom we have had so much to do in their ranks, have lost a friend whose heart was ever

beating in sympathy with the great cause they have sworn to maintain and defend, and whose voice was ever raised in their behalf, while he was the embodiment of the patriotic glow of the soldier and wounded in the hospital. And that this Association has lost a member whose purity of life and brightness of character will be missed by all, and his loss will be deeply felt by all.

Resolved, That the soldiers of the Union, for whom we have had so much to do in their ranks, have lost a friend whose heart was ever

beating in sympathy with the great cause they have sworn to maintain and defend, and whose voice was ever raised in their behalf, while he was the embodiment of the patriotic glow of the soldier and wounded in the hospital. And that this Association has lost a member whose purity of life and brightness of character will be missed by all, and his loss will be deeply felt by all.

Resolved, That the soldiers of the Union, for whom we have had so much to do in their ranks, have lost a friend whose heart was ever

beating in sympathy with the great cause they have sworn to maintain and defend, and whose voice was ever raised in their behalf, while he was the embodiment of the patriotic glow of the soldier and wounded in the hospital. And that this Association has lost a member whose purity of life and brightness of character will be missed by all, and his loss will be deeply felt by all.

Resolved, That the soldiers of the Union, for whom we have had so much to do in their ranks, have lost a friend whose heart was ever

beating in sympathy with the great cause they have sworn to maintain and defend, and whose voice was ever raised in their behalf, while he was the embodiment of the patriotic glow of the soldier and wounded in the hospital. And that this Association has lost a member whose purity of life and brightness of character will be missed by all, and his loss will be deeply felt by all.

Resolved, That the soldiers of the Union, for whom we have had so much to do in their ranks, have lost a friend whose heart was ever

beating in sympathy with the great cause they have sworn to maintain and defend, and whose voice was ever raised in their behalf, while he was the embodiment of the patriotic glow of the soldier and wounded in the hospital. And that this Association has lost a member whose purity of life and brightness of character will be missed by all, and his loss will be deeply felt by all.

Resolved, That the soldiers of the Union, for whom we have had so much to do in their ranks, have lost a friend whose heart was ever

beating in sympathy with the great cause they have sworn to maintain and defend, and whose voice was ever raised in their behalf, while he was the embodiment of the patriotic glow of the soldier and wounded in the hospital. And that this Association has lost a member whose purity of life and brightness of character will be missed by all, and his loss will be deeply felt by all.

Resolved, That the soldiers of the Union, for whom we have had so much to do in their ranks, have lost a friend whose heart was ever

beating in sympathy with the great cause they have sworn to maintain and defend, and whose voice was ever raised in their behalf, while he was the embodiment of the patriotic glow of the soldier and wounded in the hospital. And that this Association has lost a member whose purity of life and brightness of character will be missed by all, and his loss will be deeply felt by all.

Resolved, That the soldiers of the Union, for whom we have had so much to do in their ranks, have lost a friend whose heart was ever

beating in sympathy with the great cause they have sworn to maintain and defend, and whose voice was ever raised in their behalf, while he was the embodiment of the patriotic glow of the soldier and wounded in the hospital. And that this Association has lost a member whose purity of life and brightness of character will be missed by all, and his loss will be deeply felt by all.

Resolved, That the soldiers of the Union, for whom we have had so much to do in their ranks, have lost a friend whose heart was ever

beating in sympathy with the great cause they have sworn to maintain and defend, and whose voice was ever raised in their behalf, while he was the embodiment of the patriotic glow of the soldier and wounded in the hospital. And that this Association has lost a member whose purity of life and brightness of character will be missed by all, and his loss will be deeply felt by all.

Resolved, That the soldiers of the Union, for whom we have had so much to do in their ranks, have lost a friend whose heart was ever