LOCAL NEWS.

Sudden Death of a Race Horse.—The fast trotting horse General Grant, owned by Mr. James Manly, died yesterday afternoon on the Herlington Park track. On Tuesday a trot, in which General Grant participated, took place over the track, but it did not continue, and so the dash was intermissioned. The horse Grant, at the end of the trot, was the favorite, and it was decided that the remaining heat should come off this afternoon. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Manly visited the track, and had the animal paraded up for the purpose of exercising him. He appeared in excellent condition, and took a few steps in the track to tell that the assumption that the animal had been poisoned was belied by every person who witnessed his death, and in order to remove all doubt relative to the master, Dr. Thorpe, Veterinary Surgeon, was called upon, and visited the race course for the purpose of examining the animal. Dr. Thorpe found Grant dead, and gave promise of making a remarkable post-mortem. The horse was valued at $100.

The Case of Hamilton Foster & Co.—By order of the Secretary of War Mr. Hamilton Foster and all the clerks, with the exception of two, viz: Weston and Parsons, who sold goods at a blockade-runner, have been released from custody. They reached here on Tuesday evening, and report to the Adjutant General of the War Department, under instructions to report whenever called upon by the military authorities. We understand that, by order of the Secretary of War, the keys of the following named parties have been returned to them by Captain William H. Wigle, the chance of Colonel Wadsworth at Washington, and they are now at New York. Hamilton Foster & Co., Wadsworth & Co., Charles E. Waters & Co., and Abraham Fidler.

Narrasophore Company.—On Wednesday last the brig Romanos, Captain Duncan, with Mr. A. E. Smyrk, superintendent, sailed from this port with maces and laborers, destined for the Island of Nevada, who have gone out to work the very rich deposits of gold there. The vessel, however, was seized by the United States, and was sent back to New York, and has since been detained at the Customhouse, New York and Providence, who have formed a company, with ample working capital, under the name of the "Narrasophore Company." Many of our most respectable business men and capitalists are among its subscribers.

Attempts to Murder.—On Tuesday morning an attempt occurred between John Adams, a man, and Isaac Nation, colored, in the kitchen of John Adams corner, Jordan and Parsons streets. The doctor dressed the wound of Adams, and the Boston surgeon to his home. Adams made his escape, and has not yet been yet arrested.

Execution of the Stock Board.—The members of the Baltimore Stock Board transacted no business yesterday, in consequence of having enjoyed an excursion to a new copper mine, situated on the line of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, near Sykesville. The mine was carefully inspected by the Board, who were informed that the greater portion of the stockholders' paper work of the enterprise has been disposed of. The ore is exceedingly rich and can be worked at a low cost.

What He Will Not Do.—An individual calling himself John T. Daniels, was arrested on Tuesday night by Sergt. Kaufman, of the Eastern police station, charged with disloyalty. When arrested, he asserted that he had telegraphed to the Government of the United States, and would not take the oath of allegiance to the Union before voting. He was transferred to the military prison, where he will be cared for with tender care by Col. Wolfe.

A Savage Derby.—Ann Maria Warrick, colored, was arrested yesterday afternoon, charged with striking Mr. James P. Collins on the head with a stone. The accused is passing along Gay street when a colored boy, Mr. Collins, and after indulging in a little talk, ran into the street, and seizing a large stone, hit it at Mr. C., cutting his head severely. Justice Whalen released the accused on bail for trial.

Front Street Theatre.—The engagement of Miss Pauline Quashan and Mr. James Ward has proven a very successful one, and the audience each night being composed of the fashion and intelligence of the city. A splendid bill, in which Miss Quashan and Mr. Ward sustain excellent characters, will be offered to-night. A family drama will be held on Saturday.

Female Derby.—Quite a hubub was created yesterday afternoon on the corner of Pratt and Presidents streets, caused by a fight between females. A police officer was called in and arrested Margaret Fleming, charged with beating Mary Cassidy. Justice Whalen released the accused on bail for trial.

Drifting About.—Remember, reader, that the renowned Col. Jessup will deliver his lecture to-night in the Non-Resistant Room, and should the night be favorable a crowded audience will greet the lecturer.

Adding Disaster.—Win. Grover, of Baltimore City, and John Conard, of this city, were arrested yesterday, charged with aiding soldiers to desert. They were locked up in the military prison for trial.

Hobbing Soldiers.—Three worthless, John Conard, Joseph Sullivan and Daniel McMillan, were arrested yesterday charged with robbing soldiers. They were locked up for a brief trial.

Stealing Liquor to Soldiers.—Michael Connelly, charged with selling liquor to soldiers, was arrested yesterday, and locked up in the military prison for trial.

A Savage Brute.—Not a day passes but that the police receive complaints of parties threatening to kill their wives, but it is not that we find a more brutal country than the following: On Tuesday night, Mrs. Lowe, the mother of several small children, residing No. 12 Concord street, called at a grocery shop, No. 16 Concord street, for the purpose of inquiring her husband, John Lowe, who is in the army. This brute, who had a bottle of whiskey in his hand at the time, drew her into the room and rudely assaulted her with a chair, and had not several of his肆uous associates interfered, he would have killed the poor woman. Mrs. Lowe was removed to her home in an insensible condition, and upon examination it was found that she had been flogged and laid low, and was lying in a precarious condition. The brute was arrested and committed to jail by Justice Whaler.

Death of an Esteemed Citizen.—The community will be pained to learn of the death of James Birrell Esq., who resided at No. 192 West Monument street. He expired suddenly in Portsmouth, Va., on Tuesday morning. The deceased was a Scotchman by birth and a son of Sir Hugh Birrell, of the Royal Engineers of this city. He belonged to the Masonic Order, and was a member of high standing. During life he was an ardent reporter of the Maryland Institute, and with his ample means contributed largely to its prosperity. The funeral will take place to-morrow morning, and will be attended by the members of St. Andrew's Society, the Masonic Lodge, and the officers of the Maryland Institution.

Volunteering.—Edward McCaffery, charged with permitting a notorious liquor to flow from his premises into the street, and Michael Malay, for depositing a nuisance in the street, were arrested yesterday. Justice Whalen said the favorite, and it was decided that the remaining heat should come off this afternoon. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Manly visited the track, and had the animal paraded up for the purpose of exercising him. He appeared in excellent condition, and took a few steps in the track to tell that the animal had been poisoned.

Praying.—S. B. Dawson, a resident of Dorchester county, was locked up in the military prison yesterday, charged with blasphemy.

Praying.—Emma Sitton, charged with selling meat on the Sabbath, was arrested yesterday and fined $5 by Justice Whalen.

Impartial Wine.—Tokay wine is much esteemed by wine drinkers, but, as its high price excludes it from general use, the following notes from the Monitor-Nicole may not be uninteresting. The village of Tokay, which gives its name to the wine, is situated in Hungary, on the Danube, about 15 miles from Vienna. The wine is of fine quality, but is not very strong. It is made by pressing the grapes, and the juice is strained through the "Fadas." The wine is clear and bright, and is sold in large quantities.

The Household Expenses.—A writer in the Atlantic has analyzed the cost of the respective articles consumed by the household of a single person and two children, whose united salaries for the year for food amounted to $976.32. The analysis summed up for each item shows the tenth of the whole expense. Flour and wheat bread cost almost one cent; beef cost one cent; other meats cost a tenth each; half of what was spent for eating and drinking; tea and coffee, a tenth each; sugar, a tenth; milk one-tenth; tub, soap, plates, etc., one cent.
