The Income Tax .- But a fatt days now remain for the setilement of the income tax. Those persons who have not paid their income i tax on the ground that they have never been i cailed on for it, makes it imperative on tham to submit a true return of the same, as is shown by the following extract from the act 1 of (longress on the subject:

Bar-Room Fight -Shortly before cleven o'clock on Tursday night, a desperate light was had in the drinking seloon of Jes. Bederfoldt, corner of Eager street and Central avenue. It appears that a young man named Greenbury Brown had been accused of attempting to rob a soldier, and upon Albert 1 Whiteley, a wounded soldier, accosting Biown, and John Metz, boys, charged with stealing relative to the matter, a fight enemed. 's number of persons engaged in the affray, and during the melee, Whiteley was struck upon the head with a club by Brown and badly in- cass postponed, and John Dollaine, same ofjured. A large looking. glass in the room and most of the glass ware i in the bar was demolished, and had it not been for the prompt interference of the police, a murder would have been committed. Brown was arrested, and after a hearing before Justice Spicer yesterday morning was committed to jail for Court.

Attempted Murder .-- At half-past eight N'clock on Tuesday night a sailor, named William Jacques, was found in the water, at a the foot of Fell street, by officer Kennedy, of the Eastern station. The man was taken from the water and removed to the station house, where he was kindly cared for by Captain Lynch. On Honday night Jacques was brought into the station house on the charge of drunkenness, and before he was locked up $200 was taken from him by Cap tain Lynco for sefs keeping, but returned it again on Theeday morning. It is supplied that some one, who knew that Jacques had a large amount of money in his possession, robbed him, and then pushed him into the water, as his pockets, when he was taken from i the water, were turned inside out. Jacques . could give no account as to how he came into ! the water, he having been intoxicated during
