THE HORRIBLE BARBARITIES PERPETRATED ON UNION PRISON.

ERS BY THE REBELS. The horrible barbarities perpetrated by the rebel authorities in the Bouth, especially at Andersonville, have not a parallel in the history of civilized nations; or so far as is known, even amongst savages. A letter to the New) Tork Times, fortified as to its facts by copies | of the official reports of the surgeons in charge of that earthly hell in Georgia, Andersonvi will strike the Obristian world with renewed horror that men could so far forget all humanity, could so far emplate the conduct of fiends as to lend themselves for any cause to such utterly revolting enormities. And there is no chance whatever to even palliate the case, either. It will not do to say that destitution amongst themselves, a scarcity of means for better treatment was the cause. Else why was it that in all the Bouth, with its many salabilous and unexceptionable localities for a prison, a place was selected nearly one-half of which was a deadly and uninhabitable march, a vile wet morau, with space so limited even at that, as to drive their unfortunate captives-according to their own official statements—to lie down in the ocaing slime, not even the poor privilege being afforded them of a hillside in profesence To peruse these sickening details, these records of a deliberate resolve in cruelty in tended to murder their captives by inches who can feel aught but exultation that these dens of misery, these slaughter houses of poor helpless prisoners, are being reached; and that the villains in official position, like Gov. Joseph Brown, under whose eye these enerm! ties have been perpetrated or tolerated, are being paid in some poor way for their complicity in this unparalleled, wickedness? In this thing of starving and otherwise murderlng helpless men, of systematically reducing them to the condition of skeletons in order to incapacitate them for ever serving again; in this thing of sending to their graves by thou. sands, men who have been huddled together In a missmatic swamp without shelter, in order that they might perish, humanity at large has had a lesson in cruelty never equalled; and these truthful detalis-with what has gone before-should nerve exery arm anew to never cease fighting until the whole infernal their unheard of crimes.

We propose now—as we have said—to make selections from the official reports of the rebel struggle they were placed in irons. surgeous in charge, at Andersonville; and then let any one find excuses for the rebel leaders if they can:
