Safe Return of the Expedition to Plymouth—Reported Repulse of the Union Gunboats at Poplar Point, Roanoke River—Naval Attack on Fort Branch.

AN EXPEDITION FROM PLYMOUTH.

NEWBERN, Dec. 16, 1864.—An expedition, under the command of Col. Frankie, left Plymouth on the 9th inst., under orders from Brigadier General Palmer, commanding the District of North Carolina.

SKIRMISH AT GARDNER'S BRIDGE.

The first point reached was Gardner's Bridge, on the Roanoke river, beyond Jamestown. Here was encountered a force of rebel cavalry—probably acting as videttes—the main force (infantry) being strongly intrenched on the heights beyond, the position being approached by a bridge.

By the rapid movements of Capt. Donegan, who led the advance, the rebels were frustrated in their design of destroying this bridge; and the 9th New Jersey, which formed in column by platoons, rushed onward energetically across the bridge, up the heights, and succeeded shortly in driving the enemy from his position, with but slight loss to either party. Capt. Graham, with his cavalry, charged in his usual gallant style, and, following closely on the heels of the flying rebels, succeeded in taking several prisoners.

THE ENEMY PURSUED TO FOSTER'S MILLS.

The main column continued its onward march, but did not succeed in coming up with the rebels until reaching Foster's Mills, where they were discovered strongly entrenched, and with one piece of artillery. Similar to their first position, this was approachable alone over a bridge, which this time the enemy had succeeded in destroying; but a plank served the purpose, although the transit was of a more hazardous character. The command, however, crossed in safety by this means, and in line of battle confronted the rebels on the other side.

ANOTHER SKIRMISH.

The enemy now opened with his artillery, to which our force responded by a brisk fire of musketry, which had the effect of dislodging the enemy.

ENGAGEMENT AT SPRING GREEN CHURCH

On advancing to Spring Green church, on the road to Hamilton, and about three miles distant, the rebels were again encountered, their position likewise strong, and their force materially increased.—Deeming it inexpedient to attack them in front, a flank movement was made under the direction of Colonel Stuart, with his own regiment, the Ninth New Jersey and the Twenty-seventh Massachusetts. During the night this movement was effected by the command crossing the river by means of some drifting wood, and early the next morning, much to the surprise of the astonished rebels, Colonel Stuart attacked them in their rear. Finding themselves assailed and hard pressed in front and rear, the enemy essayed to escape by suddenly piercing the weakest point in our lines, which after some fighting they succeeded in accomplishing, but not without heavy loss to themselves.

CAPTURES.

We captured in this engagement five rebel commissioned officers, including one Col Hinton, 66th North Carolina regiment, and thirty non-commissioned officers and privates.

THE COLUMN RETURNS.

The column here halted, and the object of their errand having been accomplished as far as practicable, the command countermarched to Plymouth.

INABILITY OF THE GUNBOATS TO CO-OPERATE.

A fleet of gunboats which accompanied the expedition on setting out was unable to co-operate or advance beyond Jamestown, owing to the number of torpedoes sunken in the river by the enemy, and by which several boats were lost—as reported in a previous dispatch.

FLAG OF TRUCE.

Captain Judson, Adjutant General of this District, left yesterday with a flag of truce party to meet the rebel authorities at Kinston.

REVIVAL OF ACTIVITY IN NEWBERN.

Newbern and vicinity are again beginning to assume a busy aspect, and the indications of the ravages of the fearful epidemic that so lately and fatally raged here have almost disappeared.

REBEL ACCOUNTS.

WILMINGTON, Dec. 21.—All quiet at Newbern. The enemy is moving up Roanoke river against Fort Branch.

ATTACK UPON THE UNION GUNBOATS AT POPLAR POINT.

WILMINGTON, Dec. 22.—General Leventhropes attacked the enemy's gunboats and barges below Poplar Point, on the Roanoke river, on Tuesday evening. The fight lasted three hours, when the enemy was repulsed with severe loss. The fight was resumed again yesterday, when the enemy succeeded in landing some sharpshooters. Their main fleet of gunboats and transports remain below the attacking force

DEFEAT OF A NAVAL ATTACK ON FORT BRANCH.

It will be seen from our despatches that a naval attack on Fort Branch, on the Roanoke river, has been handsomely repulsed.

DEFEAT OF AN ATTEMPT TO LAND ON ROANOKE RIVER.

Wilmington, Dec. 23.—Gen. Leventhrope yesterday again repulsed the enemy, who attempted to land on Roanoke river.

From the Army of the Shenandoah

Mosby's Last—He Gobbles Sixty out of Eighty Men of the 14th Pennsylvania Cavalry—Capt. W. W. Miles and Ten Men Killed.

ARMY OF THE SHENANDOAH, Dec. 17.—[Special to the Tribune.]—From one of the escaped soldiers who was with the party attacked and captured by the Omnipresent Mosby yesterday, I send further and more correct reports of that affair. I found "Pontius," my informant, at the hospital of the cavalry corps, suffering from a sabre cut in the head. He states that a detachment consisting of 80 men, all of the 14th Pennsylvania Cavalry, were sent out yesterday in charge of Capt. W. W. Miles and two Lieutenants, to scout toward Front Royal and the Shenandoah.

They left camp at 8 o'clock, and taking the Millwood road, passed through the latter place at 10 A. M. They saw nothing; but from a safe guard, heard that twenty or thirty of Mosby's guerillas had been seen early in the morning "scenting 'round." They forded Snicker's Ferry, and when three miles beyond Millwood, they were surprised and attacked by about 100 cavalry, just as they came to the rise of a hill, which brought them face to face with the rebel party at eight rods distance. Capt. Miles was riding with the advance guard of twenty men, and received the first shock of the rebels, who charged with a cheer and yell, firing as they came. Capt. Miles was killed at the first fire. Our men delivered their fire, the front ranks receiving the charge in column

The majority were recruits, and they soon broke and fled. There was a running fight for three miles; during which ten more of our men were killed or mortally wounded, and the larger portion of the force was captured. My informant had his horse shot, and seeing he could go no farther, sheered to the side of the road, and emptied his revolver at the enemy, killing one man. He then surrendered, but his captor on receiving his weapon, said: "You are the d—l Yankee son of a b—h who shot my partner," at the same instant dealing him a savage downward stroke with his own sabre The blow fell upon his head, which brought him down upon his horse's neck.

The animal at the same instant fell dead from his previous wound. Pontious finding himself on his feet backed round to the other side of his dead horse, and drawing a second revolver from his bosom, shot his captor dead. He then mounted the rebel's horse, a fleeter animal, and escaped, taking the road via Berryville. Up to this morning eighteen mounted men out of eighty who went out, had reported at Gen. Powell's camp. Others may yet come in. Lieut. Whittmore states that eleven of our men are known to have been killed—the rest, with few exceptions, were captured. The rebel loss during the fight is not known. The body of Capt. Miles has been recovered, was embalmed this forenoon, and will be sent to his home in Pennsylvania.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—The following intelligence has just been received.

Army of the Shenandoah, Dec. 22.—Gen. Custer's division, after four days absence, returned to-day from a reconnoissance to Lacey Spring, nine miles from Harrisonburg.

Early on Thursday morning Rosser's Cavalry attempted to surprise Custer's camp, dashing in disguised in Union uniforms, which for a time produced much confusion, and prevented our men from distinguishing friend from foe. They captured fifty of the First New Hampshire Cavalry, but were soon overpowered, and they were recaptured, with the exception of two men and Lieut. Col. Hutchinson.

Rhoder's old division of infantry was advancing to attack, and Custer having accomplished the object of the expedition, fell back, Rosser refusing to follow. The enemy left fifteen dead, and many wounded, behind. Our loss was two killed and twenty-five wounded.

Terrible Railroad Casualty.

Particulars of the Late Disaster on the Cleveland and Pittsburg Railroad—Burning of Passenger Cars—Heart-Rending Incidents, &c.

[From the Cleveland Herald, Dec. 24.]

It is our painful duty to record another terrible railroad calamity, by which five persons lost their lives, and a large number have been seriously, if not fatally, injured.

As our readers have already learned, the accident happened to the mail train on the Cleveland and Pittsburg road, which left this city at eight o'clock yesterday morning. The train had arrived at a small trestlework bridge, about a mile north of Hudson, when the locomotive struck a rail which, it is supposed, had been broken or displaced by the frost.

The locomotive, baggage car, and the first passenger coach, passed safely over, but the second coach struck the bridge, entirely demolishing it, and precipitating the second and third coaches into the ravine—the second breaking in two and falling on the west side of the bridge, where it was entirely destroyed by fire; and the third falling on the east side, where it now lies, pretty badly smashed up. After passing the bridge, the first passenger coach caught fire from the upsetting of the stoves, and was completely consumed.

The conductor of the train, Mr. O. F. Jenkins, had a narrow escape from death or serious injury. He had just stepped into the forward passenger car as the accident happened, Had he remained in the second car a moment longer the painful duty of chronicling his death might have been ours.

There were a number of soldiers on the train, several of whom, we understand, received slight contusions and scratches. It was reported that these soldiers left Cleveland with fixed bayonets. If this be so, it is the greatest wonder in the world that no greater number were fatally injured.

As soon as they could extricate themselves from the wreck those of the passengers who were uninjured immediately set to work removing the dead and those who were wounded and unable to free themselves from the mass of seats, cushions, broken windows, burning coals, &c., under which they were buried. Among the first taken out was Oliver H. Perry of this city, who had with him his gun and a valuable dog, being on a hunting excursion—a pastime which he dearly loved. It is said he would go, in the cold, bleak winter, and stay several days in the woods, with no shelter but a hut made of boughs. A pocket-book, containing several hundred dollars in greenbacks, thirteen dollars in silver and a receipt for some kind of dog medicine, was found, which, it is supposed, belonged to Mr. Perry.

The most melancholy and heartrending bereavement is that of the little daughter of J. H. Robinson. Her father, mother and self were on the way from their home in Michigan to make a holiday visit to friends in Pennsylvania, when death, unheralded and unthought of, thus rudely tore them from her, and she is left alone in this wide world, an orphan. Her lamentations were piteous in the extreme.

Some of the wounded were taken to houses in the vicinity of the accident; but the dead and the greater portion of the injured were removed to Hudson as speedily as possible, where the killed were washed and laid out, side by side, in an unoccupied hotel, and the wounded received every attention, medical and otherwise, at the hands of the good people of Hudson.

During the day, yesterday, the city was wild with excitement, and the telegraph offices and depot were besieged by anxious friends and persons eager to learn the particulars of the sad affair, which has cast a deep gloom over many a household. The news of the calamity spread through the country like wildfire, and hundreds of people flocked to the scene of the accident. The town of Hudson was literally filled with country conveyances of every description.

At the first intimation of the accident wrecking trains were immediately sent out, which were soon followed by trains containing bridge materials and the necessary implements for the erection of a new bridge. The company intend to have the road in running order in the shortest possible time. In the meanwhile arrangements have been perfected for the transfer of passengers and baggage from one side of the bridge to the other.

The company are not in the least to blame for the accident, as the bridge was nearly new and the road in perfect order, the accident being clearly the breaking of a rail by frost.

TOWSONTOWN, Dec. 27, 1864

Christmas coming on Sunday, yesterday, (Monday) was generally observed here and in the vicinity as a holiday, business being generally suspended Nothing of interest transpired during the day, save the enjoyment indulged in by the juvenile portion of the community, and the imbibing rum of "Apple Toddy," "Egg Nog," &c., of those of more maturer age. The cars on the Baltimore and Towsontown Railroad were well filled during the day, (notwithstanding the unfavorable aspect of the weather) with those desirous of "spending their Christmas in the country," and many were the happy reunions of families, save here and there a vacant chair, occasioned by a visit from the "grim monster," since the reunion of said families one year ago. Many a chair being also made vacant on account of some loved one being absent fighting the battles of their country. On Sunday services appropriate to the occasion were held in the churches, both here and at Govanstown, and many were the appeals of these desirous of hearing the glad tidings in regard to our country, that was heralded forth more than eighteen hundred years ago, to the several deckets have been relieved of a large number of cases. His Honor, Judge Grason, having held upon several occasions two sessions per day to expedite business. The Grand Jury of said term has also done considerable work, finding a large number of presentments and indictments. The court has adjourned until after the holidays, reassembling again on Tuesday the 3rd of January, 1865.

A literary association has been organized in this place for the purpose of debating the different topics of the day. The following officers have been elected: President, John W. Wheeler, Esq; Vice President, Edward Flaxhart, Esq; Secretary, H. Clay Longenecker, Esq; Treasurer, John B. Longenecker, Esq. The association meets for debating purposes every Wednesday of each week.

The sleighing, which continued but a short time, was generally enjoyed here by those fortunate enough to have either a carriage or the possessors of a horse and sleigh. The proprietorship of Mr. Lewis Ritter, is a favorite resort for those coming out from the city during sleighing time, as well as all seasons of the year. Yours, &c W B K.

The raw silk brought into the market of Italy during last year amounted to upwards of 4,000,000 pounds, representing a value of about twenty three millions of dollars. The quantity of cotton spun in Italy was above six-ty millions pound weight, more than half of which belonged to Lombardy.

LOCAL NEWS.

Christmas.—This annual holiday has come and gone. Its advent filled the hearts of many with bright anticipations of the future; but its departure noticed many a sorrowful blank upon the heads of families, whose sons and daughters have been placed beneath the sod during the past year. Chairs, yesterday, that one year ago contained a bright and smiling face is now hushed in the cold embrace of death. In the city there were but few violations of the peace, and what were reported were from persons who had indulged in the merry Christmas bowl. Social gatherings were held in all portions of the city, and common humanity enjoyed itself to the utmost limit.

The most humorous feature in the city was the presentation of the immense hat worn by Mr. John T. Rich, of Weston, Vermont, who met Mr. George A. Mandrell, of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, a hat, and suit of clothes since Mr. Lincoln would carry the States of New York and Pennsylvania. Both parties are well known to the tradesmen of Baltimore as enterprising business men. The hat was manufactured by Mr. William D. McCord, and the presentation made at the residence of Mr. John Carroll, of the house of Hannan, Carroll & Co., in the presence of a company of gentlemen and ladies, who filled the spacious parlors. The presentation remarks were made by Col. Johnson, and the response by Mr. George W. Herring, and both were humorous These remarks were succeeded by the presentation of the whole company proceeded to the dining room, where a magnificent collation had been prepared, including superior brands of champagne, delicious cakes, meats and fruits

The company next proceeded to make other calls, some of them in carriages, whilst many walked in escort of Mr. Rich, who, supported by a friend on each side, wore the enormous hat. Visits were made to the residences of the following gentlemen, who had also provided feasts in beautiful style, and of the most costly character:—Messrs. Charles Gallagher, Frank McDowell, Henry Kruger, John S. Dutrow and George W. Herring. These visits were enlivened with vocal and instrumental music and short speeches. As the procession passed from street to street, windows and doors of residences were thrown open, whilst hundreds of juveniles were blowing tin horns, and shouting at the big hat, but Mr. Rich, true to his word, continues to wear it. The entire proceedings were a source of great merriment to thousands of persons.

An elegant reception was given by Mr. Wm. Prescott Smith, at his residence, corner of Hollins and Parker streets, which was attended by about four hundred of his friends, including merchants, the press, professional men, and officers of the army. The company commenced assembling about 11 o'clock, and had the pleasure of enjoying some delightful music from a grand piano and a selected orchestra, under charge of Mr. Christian Leutscher, who performed a number of fine selections from favorite operas. All the visitors subscribed their signatures, and amongst them were those of Bejamin Deford, Reg Winans, John W. Garrett, John H. B. Latrobe, and other prominent citizens, and Col. Ben. Perley Poore, who, in part, spoke on behalf of the press; also, Major General Wallace, U S V; Brigadier General W. W. Morris U S A; Brigadier General E B Tyler, U S V; Medical Director Jerlah Simpson, U. S. A; Surgeon Crosby, U S. A.; Col. John Woodley, U. S. A., and many other officers of the Middle Department.

The company made frequent visits to the beautiful library, and partook of a collation which, likethose described, comprised the delicacies and substantials of the season. Some of the guests remained until four in the afternoon, when the entertainment terminated.

Presentations—Captain Mortimer Taylor, the polite and gentlemanly conductor of the commutation train, Washington Branch, Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, was the recipient on Wednesday last of a handsome purse of greenbacks, contributed by some of the clerks in the Departments in Washington. The purse was presented by Dr. Harvey Colburn, while the train was in motion, and responded to in a happy manner by the Captain

On the day following, another committee of "Cons," through Colonel Sam. Houston, of the Quartermaster General's office, presented the same conductor with a massive gold badge. Upon the arrival of the train in Washington the Captain entertained his friends in a manner creditable to himself and those who participated in the festivities of the happy occasion.

Sale of Building Lots—Gibson & Co., yesterday sold at the public sales room, twenty five building lots, each containing five acres and twenty five, each containing ten acres. They are located within one and two miles of the city, on Harford road, near the Belair road. Seven acres were purchased by Mr. Andrew Rusby, at $325 per acre; five were purchased also by Mrs Gross, at $275 per acre, and eight acres by Mr. William Colton, at $225 per acre. All the remaining lots were sold at private sale, at the rate of $225.

A New Steamer for Baltimore—It will be remembered a few weeks since that the Merchants' and Miners' Transportation Company had purchased the steamer called the Yang Tsze, built for the Chinese trade, with the intention of running her between here and Boston, but the company have just sold her and purchased a new steamer which is now fitting out in New York, to be called William Kennedy. This boat is the new steamer built for the same line of bad fitted up for, and expected to arrive here about the 20th of January.

Highway Robbery.—William Rose and John Heck, well known to police head, were taken into custody by officers, upon the charge of assaulting and beating Tobias Aeres on a public highway and robbing Him of $12, which was all he had in his possession at the time. Justice Meredith upon taking the statement of complainant, released Rock on security to answer, and committed Heck to jail in default thereof, to await the action of the Grand Jury

Severe Injured—Mr. J Bault Smith, received a severe injury on Sunday evening whilst passing the corner of Baltimore and Hanover streets. The leg is said to be removed from the thigh downwards, and failing he was brought back to his home without a carriage. On Monday, a lad named Thomas J Wheatley, aged 10 years, while carelessly playing with a pistol on the corner of Green and Little Pratt street, shattered his left hand by its premature discharge.

Cherry and Fair Star—With all any reference we must candidly say that Manager Kunkel has expended to the amusement seeking citizens of Baltimore the most beautiful train of the spectacular play of Cherry and Fair Star that has ever been witnessed in this city. The play has been placed upon the stage most magnificently, and we trust that that the efforts of Mr. K will meet with that reward that his energy deserves

Important to Administrators and Executors.—It has been decided by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue that the income for 1863 of a decedent, (who died during the period from January 1st, 1863, to April 24, 1864, inclusive,) to the date of decedent's death, is not subject to the special income tax—that the income from decedent's estate for 1863, after decedent's death, is subject to said tax

Destroying Property.—William Floyd was arrested by officer Kuhn, charged with the destruction of public property. Justice Johnson fined him $10 with costs Officers Shipley arrested John Dexter charged with breaking down the door of the Poppleton street church Fined $10 with costs and committed to jail in default of payment.

Resisting the Police.—Francis Collins and Oliver Williams were arrested by officers Shanks and Gross, upon the charge of assaulting and resisting them in the discharge of their duty. They were quite furious in their conduct, and Justice Johnson released them on security to await the action of the Grand Jury

Holliday Street Theatre.—This place of amusement is now being crowded by the entertaining talent presented by the Martinetti family. This family is equal, if not superior, to the renowned Ravel family, and the bill that they present this evening will present the merits of their most acceptable characters

Cases for Court.—Officer Stallings arrested a young man named George Cars, upon the charge of assaulting Peter R Allen, No. 648 W. Baltimore street. Allen testified that there was no provocation given on his part, whereupon Justice Johnson released Carson on heavy security to appear at Court and answer.

Sword Presentation—On Monday, Major Wm J. Dentlow, of the 91st New York Infantry, was presented by his brother officers of the same regiment with a beautiful sword as a testimonial of their regard and esteem. The affair took place at Fort McHenry, where the officers are on duty.

Secret on the Street—A man named Thomas Finnegan, whilst passing along the western part of the city, was shot at by two men, who fired three balls, but happily did no injury. The assailants are well known and will doubtless be arrested

An Accused Rebel—James F Z Lipp was arrested yesterday upon the charge of cheating for Jeff Davis and publicly avowing himself a rebel. He was sent to the office of the Provost Marshal to await an examination

Shot At—A young man named Elisha Brady was shot at on Tuesday night while passing along Hamilton street near Fayette A ball entered his left leg, but produced no injury of a serious character.

The Sisters of Charity at Detroit lately buried $700 in specie in the cellar, for fear of a raid from Canada When the fire raging storm passed by they went to get the money again, but it had disappeared. It is thought the man who dug the hole for them may know something of the specie.

Gross receipts at the leading New York theatres for one week: Wallack's, $3,500; Winter Garden, $1,600; Museum, $3,000; Olympic, $3,400; Broadway, $4,000; New Bowery, $3,800; Old Bowery, $3,650

Can any civil engineer inform us how it is that the mouths of rivers are larger than their heads?

The Government, through the War Department, has issued an order forbidding the shipment of any hay from Maine except on Government account. The price paid by the Government is $26 per ton, and $32 for Boston pressed hay.

Dr. Rae, the surveyor of the transcontinental telegraph, considers that the connecting of Canada with Vancouver's Island, is but the work of two years.

James C. Ayer, the Sarsaparilla man, pays an income tax of $46,955; Mr. Ralph W. Emerson, who lives in the same district, pays $1,662.

The great dispute as to the author ship of "La Marseillaise" seems to have been determined in favor of its reputed writer, Rouget de Lisle.

MEDICAL.

Deafness and Blindness.

EYE AND EAR

SKILFULLY TREATED FOR ALL DISEASES AND DEFORMITIES to which they are subject by

DR. JONES, OF NEW YORK,

WHO IS NOW PRACTICING AT THE MALTBY HOUSE, BALTIMORE, MD., where he will remain until January 7th, 1865. CONSULTATION FREE.

DR. JONES has the benefit of the most Medical Colleges of Europe and America. His Diplomas hang in his office.

CROSS EYES made perfect in one minute. CATARACT operated for—always successfully. Tumors removed from the Eye and Ear; Discharges of the Ear cured; Deafness of the Eye removed; ARTIFICIAL EYES always inserted to move and appear natural, without any pain. Artificial Ears introduced which improve the hearing immediately.

All difficult and delicate diseases of both sexes treated without the use of unpleasant remedies.

In the treatment of the EAR AND EYE, and the other organs of sense, it becomes necessary to have a good knowledge of everything pertaining to medicine and surgery. What are called regular Physicians may have graduated in either the old or the new schools; but unless they have been a thorough education in both the old and the new school medical colleges, and in an Eye and Ear College, and in the Eye and Ear Infirmaries and Hospitals of America and Europe, and his Diploma as from the same hang in his office. It is impossible for a physician who has but the usual medical education, to successfully treat the Eye and Ear. Therefore Dr. Jones has availed himself of all the advantages the world affords to fit himself for his natural and chosen profession; and of his success the reader may judge by the following names of medical gentlemen, through whose examination Dr. Johannes A. Jones has gone, and who has testified to his ability in the highest language possible, by placing their names to his Diplomas, which are suspended in his office, open to the inspection of the interested

Dr. Jones is now going homeward from a professional tour to the principal Western cities—He has success in the cities of St Louis, Cincinnati, Columbus, Chicago, Pittsburg and Indianapolis, in restoring the afflicted, is without a precedent in Opthalmic and Aural Surgery. In the city of Pittsburg, during a practice of four months, Dr. Jones restored to perfect sight eyes of both sexes and all ages, cured or relieved 370 persons of deafness, operated 70 times successfully for cataract, treated with success 39 patients for amaurosis (lameness and weakness) or relieved 60 cases of amaurosis, (total want of the use,) inserted 12 artificial eyes, cured or relieved 130 patients afflicted with catarrhal sore eyes, cured 6 persons who had been totally operated with complete success 5 times for artificial pupil, (the most delicate and difficult operation in opthalmic surgery) cured and prescribed for 61 persons afflicted with chronic inflammation and discharge of the ear, operated for polypi in the nose and ear 32 times, in all species of tumor, cured and relieved 12 persons of deafness, (inflamed eyes or eyelids, or both,) cured 21 cases of all kinds of other diseases, and removed a number of specks from the eyes, operated 109 times for pterygium, (a triangular skin or thickening of mucus membrane which grows over the eye) He operated for ptosis (falling of the lids) 12 times, and cured a number of old standing diseases of every variety. Dr. Jones has written testimonials of many of the above cases, and the Pittsburg Chronicle, Dispatch and Gazette made editorial reports of his patients during the months of February, March and April, 1863, giving their names and residences, so that anybody can see for themselves by procuring the papers, copies of which Dr. Jones has in his office. There have been over 300 of Dr. Jones' cures reported in the columns of the Pittsburg and Columbus papers within the last year, many of which the readers of this paper may have seen.

MEDICAL.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, for the rapid cure of COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other expectorant is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the people no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the alarming and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred health on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

We can only assure the public, that its quality is carefully kept up to the best it ever
