Mr. Trumbull deemed the Louisians subject of the utmost importance. Mr. Chandler thought if the matter of admittien Louisiana was of such importance, i was strange the gentleman should have kept it in the Judiciary Committee to long Mr. Powell offered a resolution calling upol the President for a copy of General Order No. 23, issued by Gen. Banks at New Orleans, Feb 23, 1864. Mr. Hummer understood that this was the order under which the election was held in Louisiana. Mr. Powell said it was, but that General Banks had not reported in his letter on the Louisiana question, once published. Mr. Powell's regulation was adopted. The morning hour having excited, the Chair decided that the railroad bill, to regulate commerce between the several States, was before the Hennie as the special order. Mr. Nye reenmed his speech in favor of the bill, and controverting the view of Blates rights which claims for New Jersey the power to restrict transit across ber borders. Mr. Morrill took the flaor upon the same Mr. Trumball asked Mr. Morrill to give way for the resolution relating to Louisiana. Mr. Chandler was certain no vote would be taken on the Louisiana question before the fourth of March, as it would excite lengthened debate. Mr. Bumner crincided with the views of Mr. Chendler, and hoped the Benate would either pass or defeat the bill now before it. Mr. Bautebury said that believicz in the decuire of Blate rights, he could never vote Besate adjourned until to morrow. for the bill ander ducumion.

Mr. Trumbull dwelt upon the importance of deciding the Louisiana question as speedily as possible. Mr. Hendricks hoped the Benate would not !
