THE DRAFT.

Mr. Editor. - Notwithstanding the labour which has been expended in the adjustment of the coming dra't, the simple arithmetician can have to difficulty in showing that the rales which have been prescribed by the bead of the law, the chief of the engineers and a bleb chicial of the War Department, are founded in gross error. I will endeavor to expose this error is a few words, and proba bly the subject may be of eafficient importance to secure for my article a corner in your co. It is clear that one man who is to serve con year is not an equivalent for another who . by two and the three year's man by three .-r this process we have the positive contributings of every district represented by the number of years of service to be rendered t the men who have been placed in the field by the respective districts. If every call had been for mon to serve lowed would be ascertained by deducting the Passet aggregate of years of service they were to and another for two years, and another fo three years, then is order to adjust the credits now to be allowed the number of men faraished on the call for two vest's men must be doubled, and the number of men furnished on the call for three year's men must be multiplied by three, and the eggre gates of men supplied as thus escertained ENGLISH OPINION OF FRENCH DE- must be deducted from the aggregate of years of service actually contributed. It follows that the second branch of the rule proposed is correct only on the hypothesis that every call has been for men to serve for one year and no longer. The third branch of the rale which proposes to multiply the present requisition by three, and to add this product to the excess of years already contributed, is emutary to every principle. In effect, it is equivalent to allowing to a district n: w in excess to more than one third part of the credit to which it 4th of March next. The following gentle girlish a manuer. There are a new bouts Instead of explaining why this is so, I will the necessary arrangements: Mesers. Way-endeavor to show that the result is really ruch son, Lamden and Nicholis, of the First as I have stated. By the table of quotas, &c. lately publess than 219 out of an enrollment of 575 Upon this basis the Seventeenth ward, which and ein no more." has an enrolled population of 047, ought to be characd with 307 years of service, and belog already in excess 55, orght to supply noin, charged with stabbing John Eliz, aleunder the present call no less than 251 years colored. The affray occurred at the corner the present excess of 1625 years of service, the pinitive quets required, and from the Johnson, Third Congressional District 2,166, making an aggregate of 3.7 d. Divide this by the carolled perulation, 13,0%3, and you will have 2% is as the ratio of contribution. Then multiply the caroliment of the Eighth ward, 675, by 289, this gives you 195 67.-Again multiply the enrollment of the Borenteenth ward, 947, by 3-3, this sives you 273 6%. Now you will find that 675 bears the same proper les to 947 as 195 67 doess to 273 69. swhich proves that the su'e suggeted by me

The error in the rule is thus demonstrated.
