At a point a little to the Southward of the former place I found that the 2! Army Corps was engaged to the front and right, and the cavalry heavily to the left. Moving down the road towards Burks' Station perhaps a mile, and turning sharp to the right, I proceeded across toward a nearly parallel road, on which enemy was moving, and along which he had thrown up a line of entrenchments. As soon as the leading Division, Gen. Seymour's, could be formed, it was moved upon the road held by the enemy, which we carried. Then turning to the left, it was ordered down the road against a pretty strong resistance. By this time Wheaton's division was pu position as rapidly as possible. We swept down the road for a distance o about two miles, arriving at a deep and a difficult creek. We found the enemy had reformed his line on the opposite side, where we attacked and drove him to a point a distance of half a mile further.

THE OCCUPATION OF RICHMONI

(From the Philadelphia Inquirer.) HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE JAMES. Richmond, Va., April 3, 1865.—This has been the most famous day in the history our armies since the commencement the rebellion, for Richmond, the Gibraltar of the Confederacy, the centre of last hopes of Southern independence, th apple of discord for four long years, ha fallen, and our army is in full possession of the rebel capital, with its fortifications heavy artillery and desensive works. gether with a considerable number

THE AUTANCE OF WEITZEL. The movement which culminated so gloriously was commenced this morning about sunrise, it having been ascertained during the night by Gen. Shepley from deserter from Curtis Lee's rebel division that he (Lee) was quietly withdrawing his troops from gar front under the cove of darkness. With such secresy was ! vement on their part executed that the first intimation their own pickets had it was the order given them to march from Davis our front with the utmost speed, caution and silence. Gen. Shepley being fully apprised of the importance of the position Lee then held, and that his withdraws would at once leave Richmond at the mercy of our forces, communicated fact immediately to Major General Westzel, in command of the remaining Federa troops north of the James river. As might naturally be supposed, this opportunity was one not to be lost sight of by a com and sagacity as Gedfrey Weitzel. THE ORDER OF ADVANCE. Accordingly the movement before mentioned was inaugurated in the follows manner:-The Third Division, Twenty fourth Corps, under command of Genera Chas. Devin, having sent out the Eighty first Regiment New York Infantry skirmishers, advanced immediately youd our breastworks, and took up a position on the New Market road. The column was soon formed and ready to streets. An efficient provest guard will march towards the rebel stronghold. While the right was thus forming the Eleventh Pennsylvania Cavalry took its position on the Darbytown road, and claimed the First Division, Twenty-fifth Corps, on the Osben road.
