

BALTIMORE

CLIPPER.

"THE UNION, THE CONSTITUTION, AND THE ENFORCEMENT OF THE LAWS."

VOLUME L.—NUMBER 124.

BALTIMORE, FRIDAY MORNING, MAY 26, 1865.

PRIOR TWO CENTS.

LATEST NEWS BY TELEGRAPH

TO THE BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

LATE NEWS FROM EUROPE

BELIGERENT RIGHTS OF THE SOUTH.

THE CABINET CONSULTING ON THE POISSY.

"EIDE SAM" GAMING DAMAGES DONE BY REBEL PRISONERS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

SERENADE TO GEN. SHERMAN.

HE MAKES A HUMOROUS SPEECH.

FROM NORTH ALABAMA.

PETITIONS FOR A MILITARY GOVERNOR.

IMPORTANT REPORT.

ARMED CAPTURE OF GEN. LEATHER, OF VIRGINIA.

&c. &c. &c.

Washington.

SERENADE TO GEN. SHERMAN.

BY GENERAL SHERMAN.

[Special Address to the Singers.]

Washington, May 24.—The friends of General Sherman serenaded him this evening at his private residence near the Capitol, when he came to the front door, and in a conversation with me, he said, "I am visibly in the altered tone of their most representative newspaper. It claims that circumstances have not only improved the situation and temper of American soldiers, but have contributed to their present success. If you mean my mind's own heart, let him alone, but if he erases my path he must get out of the way." (Cheers.)

"I want peace and freedom for every man to go where he pleases to our country, without restriction. Every man should work, and there is plenty of work for every man to do. Every man should be pleased holding himself accountable to the government for his acts, and hold myself responsible for my own acts. (Yours in the crowd)—How about going to Mexico, General?" You can go there if you like, and you can go to the South if you like, and I will be glad to point, and when I speak again, I will do so in a more manly and dignified manner than I did last night, but it is considered that the poem is mine, and we all have a right to it." (Cheers.)

"It is interesting several times by irrelevant questions about his operations in Georgia and South Carolina, which he answered in a humorous way.

Those present shook hands with the general and then retired.

From Fortress Monroe.

FORTRESS MONROE, Va., May 24.—The steamer, Wm. P. Clyde, which conveyed J. F. Davis and party to this place from Hilton Head, South Carolina, sailed from here this afternoon for Savannah, Georgia, under sealed orders. Mrs. Davis and family, comprising her four children, brother and sister, and Mrs. Clement C. Clay, go to Savannah in the Clyde, as permission to proceed North has been refused them by the War Department.

Yesterday afternoon a guard was sent out to the Clyde and searched the steamer, and all the baggage and effects of the rebel party remaining on board. A large amount of gold and valuable jewelry, &c., were found in the baggage of the ladies; but, with the exception of several important documents which were found by the guard, everything was left unopened.

Among the many rumors flying about to day in regard to the confinement of Jeff Davis, has been one to the effect that yesterday afternoon he was managed in order to prevent, no doubt, any injury to his guard should he (as Mrs. Davis once remarked) become provoked at the strict surveillance held over him.

The strictest regulations, respecting persons visiting the fortress, are still rigidly enforced by General Miles, the commander of the post. No person, either officer or civilian being allowed to enter the fortress unless duly provided with the requisite passes.

Important Report.

CAPTURE OF GEN. LETCHER, OF VIRGINIA.

We learn from a source which we deem reliable, that the rebel Governor, John Letcher, was captured on Monday night last, by some of Gen. Alfred T. A. Torbett's command. We shall probably soon have all the rebel governors in our possession—Wilmington, N.C.

The Washington Star confirms the capture of ex-Governor Letcher, and states that he has been committed to the Old Capitol Prison.

From North Alabama.

LARGE UNION MEETINGS HELD IN BIRMINGHAM FOR A MILITARY GOVERNOR.

MEMPHIS, May 22.—The Bulletin says, the news from North Alabama is encouraging. Meetings are being held in all parts of the State, and strenuous exertions are being made to bring Alabama back to the Union. The meetings are largely attended. Petitions are circulating through Alabama for the appointment of a Military Governor.

ARRIVAL OF STEPHENS AND REAGAN AT FORT WARREN.

BOSTON, May 23.—The United States gunboat Tuscarawas, from Fortress Monroe, with Alex. H. Stephens and William Reegan on board, arrived before Fort Warren, and anchored in the harbor. The prisoners will be lodged in Fort Warren to day.

ARRIVAL OF TREASURER.

NEW YORK, May 25.—The steamer Ariel, from Aspinwall on the 16th, has arrived. She brings $300,000 in gold from California.

GREAT DECLINE IN THE PRICE OF COAL.

NEW YORK, May 24.—At the auction sale of Beresford coal to day the prices realized show a material decline from those of April. The decline was as follows: On steamboat coal, 100 lbs. per ton, 10c.; on grain, 20c.; on egg, 25c.; on flour, 25c.; on meal, 25c., on charcoal, 25c.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE EDINBURGH.
New York, May 24.—The steamer Edinburgh, from Liverpool on the 10th instant, via Gosportown on the 11th, has arrived. Her admires are one day later.

The steamer Palestine, from New York, arrived out on the 11th.

The steamer Pennsylvania from New York, arrived at Queenstown on the 11th, and at Liverpool on the 12th.

The steamer Peter from New York, arrived at Crookhaven at one o'clock on the morning of the 12th inst.

GRAYHAWK.

In the House of Commons, on the 11th instant, the question was put to Lord Palmerston, whether he intended to withdraw the recognition rights from the South, of which no answer had been given by Mr. White, was not put.

The Morning Star assures, from Mr. White himself, that he intended to withdraw the recognition rights from the South, on the consideration of the Cabinet, and ob-serves, "Though the withdrawal of belligerent rights in no, more sentimental action, it would have the effect of recognizing the Southern Confederacy, the Slaveholding States, the Wyo. Indians, &c., the only slave proprietors now about."

It would tend to expedite the period when the Government of the Union will raise the blockade, and bring into intercourse with the Southern States."

The Morning Post, in an editorial on the same subject, says:—"Mr. White postponed his question in the absence of Lord Palmerston, but it is unquestionable to which an answer must be speedily given.

The Post says:—"It is impossible to avoid the conclusion that the Confederate Government has ceased to exist. The South ceased to be a nation, and no longer uses the means of propagation, the war, and it has already made an admission to that effect in the original convention between Johnston and Sherman; no cause for complaint will be given if the neutral powers endorse the conclusion."

The Daily News assures us among the most pleasing features of the recent intelligence from America, the improved feelings of the citizens of the United States toward England, and the other Northern Powers, and that they are as clearly visible in the altered tone of their most representative newspaper. It claims that circumstances have not only improved the situation and temper of American soldiers, but have contributed to their present success. If you mean my mind's own heart, let him alone, but if he erases my path he must get out of the way." (Cheers.)

The Daily News, of the 12th, also reported the above statement by the Post, as follows:—"The United States Government has given up England for damage done by the Alabama, and that our own Government is of contrary opinion. The question will remain open, let us hope, for some time to come, but it is to be considered as well as at any other time."

As a matter of fact, however, President Johnson has done nothing. The question at this moment is just this: Has he?

The degradation of the Southern Slaveholders has also been made the subject of representations to the Government. Their representations were made by order of Mr. Lincoln, and for the doing of an unfriendly nation, and the amiable disposition of both Governments. It is hoped that the above statement by the Post, as far as it goes, will be restored to the notice of the public, and that the Post will be pleased holding him accountable to the government for his act."

(Yours in the crowd)—How about going to Mexico, General?" You can go there if you like, and you can go to the South if you like, and I will be glad to point, and when I speak again, I will do so in a more manly and dignified manner than I did last night, but it is considered that the poem is mine, and we all have a right to it." (Cheers.)

Opposition to this in the Morning Herald gives rumour that Sir F. Bruce complains of the difficulty of his mission, and that he has been detained at Washington, and that Mr. Adams has presented claims for losses by the rebels.

The Daily News, of the 12th, also reported the above statement by the Post, as follows:—"The United States Government has given up England for damage done by the Alabama, and that our own Government is of contrary opinion. The question will remain open, let us hope, for some time to come, but it is to be considered as well as at any other time."

Opposition to this in the Morning Herald gives rumour that Sir F. Bruce complains of the difficulty of his mission, and that he has been detained at Washington, and that Mr. Adams has presented claims for losses by the rebels.

The Daily News, of the 12th, also reported the above statement by the Post, as follows:—"The United States Government has given up England for damage done by the Alabama, and that our own Government is of contrary opinion. The question will remain open, let us hope, for some time to come, but it is to be considered as well as at any other time."

As a matter of fact, however, President Johnson has done nothing. The question at this moment is just this: Has he?

The degradation of the Southern Slaveholders has also been made the subject of representations to the Government. Their representations were made by order of Mr. Lincoln, and for the doing of an unfriendly nation, and the amiable disposition of both Governments. It is hoped that the above statement by the Post, as far as it goes, will be restored to the notice of the public, and that the Post will be pleased holding him accountable to the government for his act."

(Yours in the crowd)—How about going to Mexico, General?" You can go there if you like, and you can go to the South if you like, and I will be glad to point, and when I speak again, I will do so in a more manly and dignified manner than I did last night, but it is considered that the poem is mine, and we all have a right to it." (Cheers.)

Opposition to this in the Morning Herald gives rumour that Sir F. Bruce complains of the difficulty of his mission, and that he has been detained at Washington, and that Mr. Adams has presented claims for losses by the rebels.

The Daily News, of the 12th, also reported the above statement by the Post, as follows:—"The United States Government has given up England for damage done by the Alabama, and that our own Government is of contrary opinion. The question will remain open, let us hope, for some time to come, but it is to be considered as well as at any other time."

Opposition to this in the Morning Herald gives rumour that Sir F. Bruce complains of the difficulty of his mission, and that he has been detained at Washington, and that Mr. Adams has presented claims for losses by the rebels.

The Daily News, of the 12th, also reported the above statement by the Post, as follows:—"The United States Government has given up England for damage done by the Alabama, and that our own Government is of contrary opinion. The question will remain open, let us hope, for some time to come, but it is to be considered as well as at any other time."

Opposition to this in the Morning Herald gives rumour that Sir F. Bruce complains of the difficulty of his mission, and that he has been detained at Washington, and that Mr. Adams has presented claims for losses by the rebels.

The Daily News, of the 12th, also reported the above statement by the Post, as follows:—"The United States Government has given up England for damage done by the Alabama, and that our own Government is of contrary opinion. The question will remain open, let us hope, for some time to come, but it is to be considered as well as at any other time."

Opposition to this in the Morning Herald gives rumour that Sir F. Bruce complains of the difficulty of his mission, and that he has been detained at Washington, and that Mr. Adams has presented claims for losses by the rebels.

The Daily News, of the 12th, also reported the above statement by the Post, as follows:—"The United States Government has given up England for damage done by the Alabama, and that our own Government is of contrary opinion. The question will remain open, let us hope, for some time to come, but it is to be considered as well as at any other time."

Opposition to this in the Morning Herald gives rumour that Sir F. Bruce complains of the difficulty of his mission, and that he has been detained at Washington, and that Mr. Adams has presented claims for losses by the rebels.

The Daily News, of the 12th, also reported the above statement by the Post, as follows:—"The United States Government has given up England for damage done by the Alabama, and that our own Government is of contrary opinion. The question will remain open, let us hope, for some time to come, but it is to be considered as well as at any other time."

Opposition to this in the Morning Herald gives rumour that Sir F. Bruce complains of the difficulty of his mission, and that he has been detained at Washington, and that Mr. Adams has presented claims for losses by the rebels.

The Daily News, of the 12th, also reported the above statement by the Post, as follows:—"The United States Government has given up England for damage done by the Alabama, and that our own Government is of contrary opinion. The question will remain open, let us hope, for some time to come, but it is to be considered as well as at any other time."

Opposition to this in the Morning Herald gives rumour that Sir F. Bruce complains of the difficulty of his mission, and that he has been detained at Washington, and that Mr. Adams has presented claims for losses by the rebels.

The Daily News, of the 12th, also reported the above statement by the Post, as follows:—"The United States Government has given up England for damage done by the Alabama, and that our own Government is of contrary opinion. The question will remain open, let us hope, for some time to come, but it is to be considered as well as at any other time."

TRIAL OF THE ASSASSINS

FURTHER DEVELOPMENTS

HOW ENEMY PRISONERS WERE TREATED

Views of Leading Rebels Concerning It.

THURSDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

WILLIAMSON, ETC.

RETRIBUTION OF THE ASSASSINS

AMERICAN AND BRITISH

AMERICAN AND BRIT