ONE OF THE QUESTIONS OF THE DAY IS A NEW LIGHT.

We took occasion in a recent issue, to foreshadow the tone of public sentiment which every day more and more points to a determination to make the right of the negro to vote, one of the great points in future political contests bearing upon the success of parties. It has come to that already in this regard, that we can hardly glance over an exchange in which we do not find something said on this subject; and although war topics are not yet obsolete in the public prints, and the excitement appertaining to these might be supposed for the present quite enough, yet all parties instinctively perceive that the question of negro suffrage is one which will hold a dominating place for a good while to come, and is to be potent in its bearings on political events,—as already intimated.

Now, for one, we believe that the sooner this matter is decided, the better it will be for the country. Satisfied, in advance, that agitation will never cease until the decision is somehow made, there is no possibility of getting rid of it, or even of postponing it; and although it is—betwixt the powers of the States and of the General Government—a sort of "Gordian Knot" which seems impossible to untie, yet in the spirit of discussion to which we have adverted, Senator Sherman has sought—like Alexander—to divide it with the sword. He would make—in other words—the military powers of the General Government—as bearing upon States which have lost or compromised their franchises,—bear upon the question, ignoring or disregarding for the time being, the powers belonging, or formerly belonging to the States. In other words, the military power is the paramount law to deal with this difficulty, in the absence of specific law. The speech of Senator Sherman—from which we propose to quote the essential part—was recently made at Circleville, in Ohio, and we commend what follows to the close attention of our readers, as showing what ground will most likely be taken by the strongest and ablest advocates of the rights of the negro in the case. He said:

"If anything is clear, it is that the "framers of the Constitution meant that "each State should prescribe who should "vote. The only limitation of this power "is the duty of the National Government "to maintain in each State a republican "form of government. But again, the "question recurs, is not all this changed "in a State where the voters have voluntarily renounced their allegiance to the "General Government? Can such a State "renounce all its duties, and yet insist "upon its rights? It is generally admitted, and is certainly very clear, that "the United States may punish a traitor "by depriving him of his life, his property, "and his franchise. If one, why not all? "who are guilty! If the entire voting "population have openly revolted against "their allegiance, it is absurd to say that "we have power to kill them, and yet "have no power to prevent their voting. "Again, can we punish the counterfeiter "of our coin with disfranchisement, and "yet not so punish a traitor? If one, "why not all? But it is said that the "loyal people are left who can vote. "It is a sad fact, but a very true one, that "the number of such people in the South-"ern States would form a very narrow "foundation for a Republican Government. North Carolina and Tennessee "may contain enough such. President "Johnson intends to try the experiment "in those States, but I fear he will find "the spirit of rebellion too deep rooted in "those who have taken the oath, to make "them good citizens. How is it when "you come to South Carolina and Missis-"sippi? It is said, establish in these a "military government! Well, for a time "that may do, but it is expensive and "contrary to the spirit of our institutions. "If we can put negro regiments there "and give them bayonets, why can't we "give them votes? Both are weapons of "offense and defence. Votes are cheaper "and better. Both are parts of the mili-"tary necessity put upon us by the Rebellion. Both are unpleasant to the rebels, "but medicines are not always savory.

"I conclude, therefore, on this subject "of negro voting, that in all which can "claim their full rights under the consti "tution, it is a question for the State; "and that in revolted States, it is a question "of policy and military government to be decided by the national authorities until the "State is fully restored to its former condition.

"In some of the Southern States, I would "leave them under military rule until "they provide the only sure security for "the future; that the negroes should have "their share in reconstruction, as they "have borne their share in fighting.—"Negro voting may not suit our natural "prejudices of caste. They may be ignorant, docile, easily led, and not safely "trusted with political power; but if you "admit all this, they have been true and "faithful among the faithless. They have "joined in putting down the Rebellion, "and now to place them at the mercy of "those they have helped us to subdue—"to deny them all political rights,—is an "act of injustice against which humanity "revolts."

We have indulged in this long extract from the speech of a prominent politician, not only because it may be considered the shortest way out of a great difficulty, but because, besides, it may be considered the ablest and most ingenious argument likely to be put forth by that great party in the land, in whose ranks he has so long fought, and one of the ablest mouth-pieces of which he is. And when we see General Logan taking different ground, and the President seemingly hesitating what lengths to go, we have what is likely to be one of the most difficult matters to deal with, which has occupied the attention of the mere politicians for many a day. It is a discussion which will rapidly increase in interest as matters look at present, and we shall endeavor to keep our readers posted in regard to it.

AFFAIRS IN THE BRITISH PROVINCES.

"THE CANADIANS IN ENGLAND."

The Toronto Globe of June 14, referring to the statement that the Canadian delegation in England had not been so successful as was represented, says: The duration of the conference between the delegates and the Imperial Government shows that difficulties have been encountered in making the necessary arrangements; but it shows that ground for agreement as well as difference has been found, and gives promise of a favorable result. The delegates confidently expected to sail by the Cunard steamer of the 10th inst., one week after the Scotia left, and possibly they may have been able to do so.

DISRUPTION ADVOCATED IN THE BRITISH PRESS.

[From the London Examiner, June 3.]

It appears to us, then, very plain that the sooner we part in peace and friendship with our North American colonies the better for us and for them. They desire independence, and, indeed, virtually have it already, while all that remains to be is the heavy cost and heavy responsibility of a nominal sovereignty. This is the deliberate opinion of Lord Bury, who has, in fact, given us the draught of a preparatory treaty with this object, drawn up, in our view, with great skill and judgment, and thorough knowledge of the subject he deals with. From the present state of the political relations of North America the question is soon likely to become a very prominent one, and in such a case the work of Viscount Bury will be the text book and the guide of every statesman desirous of detailed and reliable information.

The Reconstruction of Alabama.

It seems to be understood that Judge Parsons, of Northern Alabama, will be appointed Provisional Governor of that State. One hundred and six citizens of Mobile lately addressed the President, through Gen. Granger, informing him that they will exert themselves to bring about a restoration of order and good government. In transmitting this report, Gen. Granger says:

"I desire to say, in brief, that I believe no impediment exists to an immediate restoration of this people, with their vested rights as a State, to their former relations with the United States Government.

"The temper and spirit of these people, as far as Union sentiments are concerned, far exceed anything of the kind I have witnessed since this war commenced. The signers of the letter transmitted are many of them personally known to me. They are men of standing, influence, and in all respects representative men, and I am convinced their views, as set forth in this letter, are a true reflection of the sentiments of the citizens of Mobile and the State of Alabama."

THE COMPLECTION IT IS COMING TO.—Private commercial letters received here say that in the best informed political circles of Europe the belief is general that Maximilian has expressed to his father-in-law, King Leopold, and also to his brother of Austria, the strongest possible desire to abdicate the rickety throne of Mexico. The intimation of this wish at the Tuileries, through these intermediary parties, is at the bottom of much of the excitement in Paris in regard to Mexican affairs generally. It is a much more serious business for Imperialism than the defeat of a few Belgian troops at Tacambaro to find the newly installed Emperor already eager to get out of the concern, and out of the country at the same time.—N. Y. Times.

AMUSEMENTS TO-NIGHT.

MARYLAND INSTITUTE—Ten Nights in a Bar Room.

WHAT THE LADIES SAY OF IT.—In the entire history of cosmetical preparations, we for the first time find ladies publicly acknowledging the value of a beautifier of the skin. That a fady used anything of the kind was a fact carefully concealed. It is only concerning the value of the preparation called Kmail de Paris that we find such testimony on record. This is because L'Email is neither paint, powder nor compound of arsenic or mercury, but a delicious preparation, which, acting specifically upon the scarfskin, dissolves freckles, tan and morphew, rendering it soft, white and transparent. Mlle Vestvali, Mrs D. P. Bowers, Miss Lucille Western, Elise Isand, and other ladies of equal note, commend it to their sex. Ladies visiting the sea shore afterwards should use L'Email, for removing the effects of sun-burn, salt-air, etc So'd by all Druggists, Perfumers, Hair Dressers and Dealers in Toilet Goods. Wm H. Rood 167 Baltimore street, General Agent.

☞ Some people imagine themselves well dressed when they are clad in a suit of broad cloth and satin, and their pedals encased in the genuine French extra polish patent leather. Now, we differ with these. "Some people" are perfectly careless regarding the main feature of a genteel appearance. The Hat—the Hat—is the grand crowning attribute. A new Hat, a fashionable Hat, a desirable Hat, is the feature we desire to look upon, and which gives additional beauty to the patent feather below. Go to Webb's 49 N. Eutaw street, corner of Clay, for a good cheap, silk, soft or straw Hat.

PICTURES OF OUR LAMENTED PRESIDENT, GENS. GRANT, SHERMAN, AND OTHERS.—The superb stock of Pictures of President Lincoln, Generals Grant, Sherman, and others, kept by Mr. George W. Hewett, No. 9 North Gay street, is a subject of general remark—especially with passing pedestrians. His display of Pictures, Frames, Looking Glasses, &c., in fact is exceedingly attractive, and developes an assortment within sufficiently grand for the decoration of the palace of a King as well as the plainest mansion. As a dealer, he is as clever as enterprising, and richly deserves to succeed.

IS YOUR LIVER OUT OF ORDER?

It is a difficult thing to keep the liver in good order in this changeable climate. It is sometimes too active, and sometimes too indolent. In either case a disorder of the system is sure to be the consequence. Your liver must act with regularity if you enjoy health; and to restore that regularity of action when lost, there is nothing so effective as Radway's Regulating Pills. A disordered liver leads to quite a number of serious disorders. The jaundice, the rheumatism, the fever and ague, and many other bilious affections all accompany such a condition of things. Resort immediately to the use of Radway's Regulating Pills. They never fail to remove the cause of all such trouble. They are compounded of the purest medicaments known to pharmacy, the very essence of which, and not their coarser substances, are employed by Dr. Radway. Hence, his Regulating Pills have a peculiarly subtle power in thoroughly searching out disease, and expelling it from the sphere of every system affected. They do not distress the delicate coats of the stomach, occasioning gripes, pains, tenesmus, and so on, by their irritating operation, as too many other pills do. They purge gently, regularly, and without straining. They leave no weakness behind them. They are pleasant to take, and only 25 cents a box—a quantity which may last you for a long month, and will be found useful in many "of the ills that flesh is heir to," besides liver complaints. Your bilious fears will vanish as soon as you take a dose or two. Your disordered liver will be restored to a proper sense of its duty. You will be a well man or woman. Sold by druggists. jo 12-d&wtw

REAL ESTATE.

STATE AGENCY FOR THE DISTRIBUTION OF INFORMATION CONCERNING FARMS IN MARYLAND.

MARYLAND FARMS FOR SALE IN EVERY COUNTY.

From $1,000 to $60,000 and Upwards.

The following is a partial list of Farms I have now for sale, comprising some of the most valuable Tracts and Finest Estates in Maryland:

FARM of 225 acres situated in Howard county, on the county road three miles west of the Relay House, 10 miles from the city of Baltimore. It is approached from the Washington turnpike on the south and from the county road from the west and north. The land is in good condition, twenty-five bushels of wheat per acre and other cereals in proportion, have been raised; has an abundance of pure spring water and is considered one of the healthiest places in the State; has an abundant supply of fruit of all kinds, about 2,500 trees just coming into bearing this season. The garden of about 2 acres has a large supply of grapes of various kinds; raspberries, Lanter blackberries, Kossuth berries, strawberries, dwarf pears, &c., &c. Two never failing streams of pure spring water pass through the place, watering every field, one of which supplies a large pond from which the tenement house is supplied with ice. The improvements are a stone rough cast dwelling house 54 by 46 feet with very large back buildings built in the most substantial manner 2 years ago by the then owner for his own occupancy, and no expense having been spared to make it complete in every respect. A wide piazza extends the whole front of the house. The first floor consists of a parlor, sitting room, dining room, library room, a large and substantial fire proof safe, and wide hall running through the centre of the house, 4th room, large winter and summer kitchens, and wood house on same level. Second floor contains six large chambers in main building, two bed rooms, bath room, &c., in back buildings every room except the parlor have large and very convenient closets; hot and cold water throughout the house, bells in each room, also gas pipes throughout the house; a large, dry cellar under the whole house; Chelson's largest size furnace, heats the entire house; cooking range, &c., is in kitchen; in short, every convenience usually found in a modern built house. The house stands on an elevated position from which nearly all parts of the farm, and from its roof the city of Baltimore, as well as the surrounding country for many miles, can be seen, and is surrounded by oak, hickory and chestnut trees of large size, as well as a profusion of evergreens. The other improvements consist of an ice house 20 feet square, now filled with the purest ice, winter and summer dairy, one of the best ever erected here in the county, 60 by 30 feet, which is supplied with water; overseer's house, gate house, &c. The new house and corn crib are of unique construction and considered to be superior.

FARM OF 129 ACRES on Mill Creek, two miles from Annapolis; 120 acres under cultivation, the remainder timber. The soil is rich, and adapted to the growth of grain, fruit and vegetables. Would make a fine truck farm.
