THE FUTURE OF PARTIES.

One of the signs of the times, politically, is the proposition of the "Democracy" to run General Sherman for the office of Governor of Ohio, and if the Republican party proper do not open their eyes to the ultimate purposes contemplated by such a step, it is time they did. The most prominent man, in some essentials, in the country as a contemner and despiser of the colored race—in fact, a "pro-slavery man,"—so understood, if there is any shred of slavery left on which to base such a characteristic or partiality, he is the very one of all others,—provided he will lend himself to their purposes,—to carry out their views. We say—carry out their views, because the step contemplated in putting him forward in Ohio, may be considered only a sort of preparatory training for the race for the Presidency. Testing his speed and bottom thus on the provincial race course, they will, if he makes "good time," enter him against all comers at the next election.

And that he is all ready for just such a trial of strength, the country should be aware. It is not too much to believe, or say, that in offering the terms he did to the rebels of the South, no better bid for their support in just the contingency contemplated could have been made. And if the obligation to them could have been made weightier by any means whatever, that was accomplished also, and at once, by the flat condemnation of the President and Cabinet of the terms so indiscreetly proffered. Bound after that to stand by him in any future emergency in preference to any man of equal prominence in the North, the Southern Democracy,—as all must see,—have a candidate already made to their hand in presence of the fact that they can by no means have the slightest chance in putting up a sectional candidate of their own.

And that Sherman himself contemplates the future thus foreshadowed seems plain enough from his conduct since his famous tour pas. Instead of quietly submitting to the verdict at once rendered upon his blunder by both Government and people, he at once proceeded to manifest his indignation by conduct quite unworthy of one in his position. Heedless of the censure he had incurred, and in defiance of the proprieties of an occasion which should have been sacred from the manifestations of individual pique from any cause, he made the occasion of the great Review one to manifest his petulence and spleen, doing what he could to put a slight upon the Secretary of War, who at least was no more—indeed not so much—implicated in what had offended him as was the President himself. It was an exhibition eminently untimely and improper, and a blemish upon the proceedings which ought not to be forgotten.

Well, already at issue with the Government, already in angry antagonism, it is but natural to expect one of his temperament to follow it up. Powerless to punish those who have thus offended him except through the agency of parties also inimical to it, what more a matter of course, than for him to permit the approaches of the disaffected, the copperheads, who allied with the Southern Democracy whom he had previously mollified by his improper concessions, might enable him to get some satisfaction whilst at the same time ministering to his ambition for political distinction!

We say all this, in our opinion, foreshadows the turn political affairs are to take. That the Democracy—North or South—are at all abashed by the defeats they have experienced in their attempts to regain power by the ruin of the country none need suppose, and that they can get up as promising a programme in any other direction does not look probable.—And so we look for a stirring time in the next struggle for precedency, and power. In view of this, the true friends of the Union must prepare to consolidate their forces and present a solid front whether their candidate is Andrew Johnson or some one else equally identified with the vindication of the Government and of free principles.

NEW BOOKS.—We are indebted to W. J. Widdleton, publisher, of New York, at the hands of Messrs. Henry Taylor & Co., for a lively and entertaining book entitled "Kilpatrick and our Cavalry," by James Moore, M. D., Surgeon of the 4th Pennsylvania Cavalry. It is embellished with a handsomely engraved portrait of the great cavalry leader, and has besides twelve other illustrations, forming altogether a most entertaining volume.

Next, from T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia, at the hands of the same booksellers here, we have "The Life, Speeches and Services of Andrew Johnson." This volume is admirably gotten up for general distribution, and should be in the hands of all who desire to become acquainted with one of the most remarkable characters of an era above most others wonderful for the great men it has brought forward.

From Frederick A. Brady, publisher, New York, also through Messrs. H. Taylor & Co., we have one of Mrs. Gore's most readable novels—"Mothers and Daughters," highly commended by the English critics.

From Leonard Scott & Co., New York, we have the "London Quarterly Review" for April, an unusually interesting number.

This can also be had of H. Taylor & Co.

NEW MUSIC.—From Jaminet, Desforest, 39 Beekman street, New York, we have the "The Whip-poor will's Song," and "Everybody's Love Song."

NAMES OF PROMINENT REBELS APPLYING FOR PARDON.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald says:

The following list embraces all the prominent rebels who have applied for pardon:—Alexander H. Stephens; M. T. Hunter, Postmaster General—Reagan, W. W. Boyce, of South Carolina; T. O. Nicholson, of Virginia; William T. Avery, of Tennessee; B. H. Hill, of Georgia; Major Generals J. E. Dorhaste, William Mahone, George Pickett, and Pebbls, and Brigadier Generals J. B. Simms, Basil W. Duke, H. L. Quarles, M. J. Wright, H. P. Jackson; William H. Peck, Wm. C. Wickham, J. R. Anderson, W. N. H. Pratt, W. L. Capett and R. L. Page.

This morning John P. Murray, a member of the rebel Congress from Tennessee, presented himself at Colonel Ingraham's office and took the oath of allegiance.—Fourteen questions, applicable to the exceptions enumerated in the President's late amnesty proclamation, were propounded to Murray before the oath was administered, to all of which he answered favorably the question "Did you leave a seat in the Congress of the United States to aid the rebellion?" But the oath was administered, however, in order to afford him an opportunity to make a special application under the amnesty proclamation to President Johnson to be restored to his rights as a citizen of the United States.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

A correspondent of the Tribune, writing from Orangeburg, South Carolina, says:

The hopeless agility of the poor whites, which is described by officers and refugees as something appalling, renders the planters disposed to do the best they can with the blacks, but there are large numbers who evidently intend to do as the Jamaica planters did—swindle the freed slave under any and every pretext. Their conversation shows it. Unless all South Carolina is garrisoned by anti slavery troops, this State will either become a desert by the desertion of the laborers or pass into other hands. It is very desirable for the good of all parties that it should change owners—for the planter that he may learn to work for his own living; for the black that he may become an honest laborer, which, under the present capitalists, he has no inducement to become; for the poor white that he may see and have an opportunity to rise in the social scale. No man in the North, who has not lived among these planters can understand what a brutal and vicious class of persons they are. The New York Five Points could turn out at random a more intellectual and as moral looking a delegation any day as I have seen here in conference with Gen. Hartwell.

INSTRUCTIONS TO PROVISIONAL GOVERNORS IN REGARD TO RECOMMENDATIONS FOR PARDON.

The Attorney General has issued instructions to the Provisional Governors appointed by the President intended to confine their recommendations for pardons to individual cases, concerning which no dispute can possibly arise. Such cases will be acted on first, that the Governors may have their assistance, as needed, in starting the wheels of their respective State governments. All others will have to await careful investigation.

AMUSEMENTS TO-NIGHT.

MARYLAND INSTITUTE—Carncross & Dixey's Minstrels.

WHAT THE LIVERS SAY OF IT.—In the entire history of cosmetics[,] preparations, we for the first time had ladies publicly acknowledging the value of a blemisher of the skin. That a lady used anything of the kind was a fact carefully concealed. It is only concerning the rare of the preparation called Rimmel de Paris that we find such testimony on record. This is because L'Email is neither paint, powder nor compound of arsenic or mercury, but a delicious preparation, which, acting specifically upon the scarf-skin, dissolves freckles, tan and morphew, rendering it soft, white and transparent. Mrs. Vestivali, Mrs D. P. Bowers, Miss Lucille Western, Eliza J. and other ladies of equal note, command it to their sex. Ladies visiting the sea shore or country should use L'Email, for removing the effects of sun-burn, salt-air, etc. Sold by all Druggists, Perfumers, Hair-Dressers and Dealers in Toilet Goods. Wm. H. Read, 147 Baltimore street, General Agent.

IS YOUR LIVER OUT OF ORDER?

It is a difficult thing to keep the liver in good order in this changeable climate. It is sometimes too active, and sometimes too indolent. In either case a disordered system is sure to be the consequence. Your liver must act with regularity if you enjoy health, and to restore that regularity of action when lost, there is nothing so reliable as Radway's Regulating Pills. They never fail to remove the cause of all such troubles. They are compounded of the purest and most healthy Vegetable properties, every essence of which, and not their coarser substances, are employed by Dr. Radway. Hence, his Regulating Pills have a peculiarity suitable power in themselves only searching out and expelling it from the sphere of every embarrassed organ. They do not disturb the delicate coats of the stomach, occasioning gripes, pains, tenesmus, and so on, by distributing portions of too many other pills do. They purge gently, regularly, and without straining. They leave no weakness behind them. They are pleasant to take, and cost but 25 cents a box, thereby which may last you for six months, and will be found useful in many of the ills that flesh is heir to," besides liver complaints. Your billousness will vanish in from one to three days. Try two. Your disordered liver will be restored to a proper sense of its duty. You will be a well man or woman. Sold by druggists. jy19-d&w1w

BLACK BERRY SYRUP COMPOUND.

This article, prepared by WM. H. READ, at his Patent Medicine House, 147 Baltimore street, has had such an extensive sale, and works such speedy and effectual cures, that its high grade of merit is fully established. This most unpleasant of Diseases is generally but aggravated by the use of Mineral Astringents like the sugar of lead, while Opium only leaves the Bowels in worse condition than before taking. Its use in the

ARMY

Has become pretty general, it being the soldiers' special friend in curing this great bane of Summer Camp Life, while for children teething, and in general summer complaint among children, nothing can rival it.
