MAKE HOME REAUTIFUL. More than building showy mansions, More than dress and fine array. More than domes and lofty steeples. More than station, power and sway-Make your home both next and taswful, Bright and pleasant, always fair.

Where each heart shall rest contented, Grateful for each beauty there. More than lofty, swelling titles, More than fashiou's laring glate, More than mammon's guided honors. More than thought can well compare-See that home is made attractive By surroundings pure and bright-

Trees arranged with taste and order, Flowers with all their sweet delight. Seek to make your home most levely, Let it be a smiling spot, Where in sweet contentment resting, Care and sorrow are forgot Where the firwers and trees are waving, Birds will sing their sweetest sons; Where the purest thrughts will linger,

Confidence and love belong. Make your home a second Eien, Imitate her smiling bowers; Let a neat and simple cottage Stand smong bright trees and fi swers. There what fragrence and what brightness Will each bicoming ruse display! Here a simple vine-clad arbot Brightens through each summer day. There each heart will rest contented, Seldom wishing far to room;

Or, if rosming, still will charish Memories of that pleasant home. Truch a home makes man the better, Pure and lasting its control: Home with pure and bright surroundings. Leaves its impress on the soul. A REMARKABLE DREAM-A SHI

WRECK FORESHADOWED. The Rochester Express relates this curi ous coincidence respecting the recent burning of the ship William Nelson: "The ship sailed from Antwerp on the 4th of June, and it en happened that a gentleman of this city was expecting his wife's father and mother to start about the same time. Last Saturday, the day of the disaster, his wife had a remarkable dream about five o'clock in the morning. in which she distinctly saw her mother lying very pale and white with all the appearance of death.
