HIGH MEATS AT MICHMOND. The Bichmond Halletin of Wednesday

We cannot but be persuaded that much of the dalay in the rebuilding of the burnt district of our unfortunate city, and the resumption of business, the general lack of thrift and competition in trade and mechanical labor, is due in a great measure to the hitherto sordid and avaricious spirit of property holders. Their prices are unprecedented, their demands are extortionate in the extreme, and the high spirit of determination on the part of the industrial portion of our community to struggle against the adverse tide of roin, and rise sabove it, has been dampened, and well sigh crushed, by the mean, inhuman and Impetriotic action of these let and house owners, in placing the chances of lease or rent far beyond the reach of men of moderate means. What reason is there in demanding the sum of from twenty five to thirty thousand dollars, cash in hand, for the ten years lease of a lot with only forty feet of front and eighty feet of depth! or twenty-five bundred dollars per annum rent for a plank house of one story, a mere shell, with no conveniences, about fifteen feet wide and some eighty feet deep! or thirty five hundred dollars for a store house which rented for a thousand dollars before the war! We ask what reason can there be in all this? Yet such is the case. A GEORGIA PREACHER.

A writer in the N. O. Picayune writes as follows of a preacher he saw in Upper Georgia: After throwing his eye around the house in a threatening manner, with "Oh, you miserable sinners," expressed (in every lineament of his round tace, he went on in a very serious voice: "My brethren, in order to check all idle en riceity, I will state that my name is Elijah Browser, from Jessymine county, Kintuck, [sniftle,] and I am free to confess, without fear of successful contradiction, ami I'm here to-day to say, and it will at once occur to every intelligent and reflecting mind, when I make bold to tell you that I have been preaching now purty nigh gwine on three year, and on All average of five hundred sermons a year: that I have presched to the stiers. to the injine, to the orans, [sniche.] to the niggers, and to the wood choppers f S; aidin county; but never, no never, blubber, has I seed in all that time so ill mannered, so sinful and depraved, and devil-hugging a congregation as this one here settin before me to day; and I want to tell the young men and women a setting back there agin the melejun, that comes bere a courtin and a flirtin, and a passin of notes round the melejin, and a laffin, and a gigglin, and a flyin in the face of Providence, that the lass of the State throws aroun! me certain protection, and Lam goin to have it And what's more, t the thing aint stopped. I am gein (for ('ve got their names) to call out their names from the pulpit next Sunday, and present 'em to the grand jury, moreover.

A TERRIBLE PREDICTION.—Professor Leouidas, an Indianapolis astrologer, , after looking at the rings around the sun, makes the following Lorrible prophecy: 'I observe by the planets that a dreadful plague will commence in Russia, originating from silks brought over from Egypt, Cairo, and Turkey. It will extend across he Baltic sea, desolate Germany, cause immense mortality in England, and then spread to the United States. This dreadal epidemic will spot the people like a leopard, and turn the feah to a purple black. The pestilence will carry off such 1866; they may otherwise, by law, be ex- an amount of mortals that there will not be enough lest to bury the dead or give them Christian burial. The streets of our cities, towns, and villages will be awarm-A with the dead and dying. The groans and sells of horror will fill every broast with consternation. Confusion will abound fil on all sides. The death knell will cease The Commissioners for opening Streets have to toil as the malaly rages in fury. The infected will fall and die wherever they come so common that the autyivors will Am and introction them at tree in New Jer-"The on Chesnut Island tract, Balem county.
