Festooned o'er the frowning hosts Weighing weary eyelids down, And the silent picket hetened To a soft approaching sound. Johnny Reb. I come to meet you-We were brothers-once again I have come unarmed to meet you. Let me not be heard in vain: Though your rage attest devotice To your failing, dying cause, Let us cesse tals Serce commotion And resume our excient laws.

Let us arep the warlike trappings And renew our civil dress. Happy in the common country You and I were taught to bless The picket leaning on his musket Pondered o'er what he had heard Then among his comrades hastened Sheeting, "feece," a magic word. And recalled the days of yore, What he lived to peace and pleaty: Contrast now he must deploye. Then he saw his regred army And he saw each brigade dwindle Till he shed a bitter tear, They were now in draves describe.
