1 Year..... 30.06

BY SABAM E. CARRICHATIA Pealed the ancient village bell Over distant meed and dell. From the church upon the bill On the Sunday morning still, Calling to the pews of oak All the honest village folk. And smong the simple throng Little Mary waiked along, With her tiny dimpled hand In her mother's, hard and tanned, Pratting crystal, childish words. How she wondered that the bir ... Little truents of the bowers.

Dated to sing in Sabbath hours. Happy in her mother's lave. Rich in wenith she knew not of : Enhies shutting over pearls Were her lips and teeth; her curls. Waring richly fold on fold. Filagree of purest gold. Pealed again the village bell Over dis ant mond and dell. Frem the church upon the bill On a summer marning still, Calling to the pews of cek Merry train of village felk.

And among the british throng. Mary blusbing walked slove, Clasping tightly to a hand-Not her mother's - hers and tanned. Listing coyleh maiden words; While sgain the little birds. Merry minatrels of the bowers. Poured their melodies in showers. Pecied again the village bell Over hemiet, mead and dell. And among the favoral throng Mary pale was borne along, Cold upon her quiet tresst

Folded were her hands at rest. And the birds still tiring never Sing their minstrel songs forever; Peais again the village bell, Mary used to love so well, Pounding at the gates of night, Tolling datkness into light: Presching with its mellow tongto Momilles to old and your git Telling tales of joy or woe, To the dead who rest bel.w; Giving back the love she give -Does sae hear it is the grave?
