The London Herald cautions the conservatives by assuring that the real gain is with them, as the elections have relieved them of unreliable supporters.

It is again asserted, on good authority, that Lord Palmerston will retire before Parliament meets, and that Mr. Gladstone will decline the premiership in favor of Lord Grenville.

Advice from Brazil say that the Government has accepted the British proposals of February last, and that diplomatic relations are about to be re-established.

A French Imperial decree promulgated the Convention of Geneva in August, 1854, for the better care of wounded soldiers on the battle-fields.

The steamer Cossack, with the 1st Maine Cavalry, left here for New York to-day, after having remunerated the authorities at Newport News for the loss sustained by him from the bad behavior of some of his men.

The loss sustained was much less than first estimated. The amount of damage paid was $1,000.

THE NAVAL ACADEMY.

CHANGE OF ADMINISTRATION—WHAT HAS BEEN DONE IN THE PAST.

In a few days the Naval Academy will cease its connection with Newport and return to Annapolis from whence it was established in the Fall of 1861. It is not our purpose in the present article to enter into the details of cases which rendered it politic to make the change, but we incline to the belief that the place and surroundings are ill adapted to the requirements of the academy. Various rumors are also to the cause of its disappearance.
