SONG: THE EMPTY SLEEVE. WRITTER AND SOLD BY A ONF-ARMED SOLDIER OF THE ICTU PANAL TOLS. By the moun's pale light to a gozing throng. Let me tell one tole set me sing ene song. The a tale devoid of an aim or pup;

'Thathe simple song of a one-armed man. Till this very hour would you e'er believe What a queer, weird thing is an empty alcove? It tells, in a silent way to all, Of a country's need and a country's call: Of a kies and proper for a child and wife, And a hurried march 'er a nation's life. Till this rest hour would you e or believe What a tell-tale thing is any emply sleeve?

It tells of a battle-field of gore: Of the sabre's clash and the cannon's rour: Of the whizzing shot and the acreaming shell, And a prene that mimics the scenes of heil. This this very bout would you e'er telieve What a horribte thing is an empty sleeve? It tells of a ruth at a leader's call, To a scene where death held carnival: () fa furious charge at the bugle's note And a gurgling sound in a fooman's throat. Till this very hour would you e'er believe What a terrible thing is an empty sleeve? It tells of a thousand nameless graves, Where slumber a thousand loyal braves; Of a widow's wos and an orphan's prayer. And a mother's wat for a "vacant chair." Till this very hour would you e'er believe

What a mournies thing is an empty electe? Tet it tells that a flag, with the stripes an In God's own chosen time, shall wave O'er a land where droops no cowering slave. Till this very hour would you e'er believe What a hopeful thing is an empty sleeve?
