GRYERAL SHERMAN BEFORE THE REBELLION. The New Orleans Picayune publishes two letters from General Sherman, dated December 13, 1860, and January 18, 1861 written while superintendent of the Military Academy of Louisiana, which clearly defines his position in respect to the rebellion, and puts at rest the report that he had preferred to remain neutral during any conflict which should arise between the National and State Governments .---These letters show that there was no doubt ; or hesitancy in General Sherman's mind as to his duty.
