The western part of Maryland is more like New England in the beauty of its scenery and the character of its people.

THE MARYLAND FARMER AND MECHANIC. This valuable journal for the farmer and mechanic is published weekly.

CONSTITUTIONAL HISTORY. The following is the order in which the original thirteen States adopted the Constitution of the United States.

IMMIGRATION TO MARYLAND. The people of the State are indebted to that journal, the Boston Daily Advertiser, for the following very comprehensive and fair statement of the advantages of this region in the matter of furnishing homes for the surplus population of the North.

Before the war of 1861 the crowded communities of New England and New York had been steadily taking a westward course.

THE war has changed everything that has been changed. The people who five years ago shrunk at the word progress, have since then been coming to us with industry and wealth in their train.

THE pioneer who twenty years ago built his cabin in Illinois, or Oregon or California, has now cleared his land, and is ready to accept the prospect of doing all himself, of looking through a long life of self-reliance.

THE man who has brought out the principle of the steam engine, and is now the proprietor of a large factory, is now the proprietor of a large factory.
